

ROOSEVELT TELLS MOOSERS TO FIGHT

Delivers First Speech at Progressive Conference in Chicago

WILL MEET THREE DAYS

Advocates Fighting Until Progressive Principles are Embodied in Laws of Illinois

CHICAGO, DEC. 9. — "Without trafficking or dickering with the old parties, fight to have our platform principles embodied in the laws of Illinois," was the appeal of Colonel Roosevelt today made to the newly elected Progressive members of the Illinois legislature to whom he delivered his first speech at the Progressive conference which opened informally today and will continue over Wednesday.

Besides pleading with the Progressives to stand alone in their fight, the former president took occasion to criticize the New York court of appeals, designating its position on the "bake-shop cases," as "preposterous," and to term the Republican organization "of such a character that no honest man can be in it."

The formal opening of the conference is not scheduled to take place until tomorrow, but a large number of Progressive both men and women already are here.

Colonel Roosevelt on his arrival here today was greeted at the railroad station with cheers and shouts of "he can come back."

"I am very glad to have the chance to come out here and say again that we are in the fight to end and that it is idle folly for the Republicans to waste time in thinking of any attempt to lure us back into an organization that they have made of such a character that no honest man can be in it," Col. Roosevelt said. He urged Progressive members of legislatures to introduce every measure their party promised in the campaign and try as hard as they know how to have them adopted.

"I want legislative committees appointed to prepare in advance and to have ready for introduction on the first day of the sessions bills advocated in our platform," he said.

"Another thing I want to see is this: our opponents are now making loud professions of loyalty to Progressive principles so make them show up or back up. They say that most of our measures are unconstitutional. Nothing would please the old reactionaries better than to fall back on the dear old constitution. We are the heirs of the Republicanism of Abraham Lincoln and the Republicanism who fought in the civil war. Lincoln's opponents also said he was trying to pull down the constitution."

He then discussed at length the workmen's compensation and eight hour laws. It was in this connection that he discussed the action of the New York court of appeals in overruling in effect the United States supreme court.

"The court held the New York constitution supreme and put the people of that state in the position of making it necessary for them to have the United States constitution amended by a vote of three-fourths of the states if they wanted it to be in conformity with the New York laws. Such a position was preposterous."

"I hope," he continued, that you will put into the laws of Illinois, as I shall try to put into the laws of New York a provision that if the people want certain laws no official governor legislature or court, shall have the power to prevent them from obtaining these laws."

"You gentlemen have a great opportunity," the colonel said in closing. "I hope that without trafficking or dickering with the old parties you will fight to have our platform principles embodied in the laws of Illinois."

Seven of the nine members of the national legislative committee took part in the deliberations of that body this afternoon and tonight. Judge Ben B. Lindsey, of Denver, telegraphed that he would be unable to come to Chicago for the meeting and William Flinn, of Pittsburg, was delayed in arriving, although he is expected tomorrow.

Chairman Dixon announced that the executive committee had decided upon several changes in the program of the conference. Owing to the limited time that many delegates could spare, it was decided to continue tomorrow's session without interruption except for a half hour buffet luncheon which will be served in the conference room.

Miss Addams will present to the conference a report of a sub-committee on a tentative scheme of financing an organization for the Progressive cause.

This will be followed by an address to be delivered by Dr. Walter Weyl on "Plans of organization and financing used in the campaigns of the English liberals and the German socialists."

Dr. Benjamin Fay Mills will then speak on the subject of a speakers' lyceum.

These reports and addresses will be followed by a general discussion in which leaders from various states will take an active part.

$130,000 MONSTER GUN IS SHATTERED

FIFTY TON WEAPON EXPLODES AT PROVING GROUNDS.

Two Ton Breach Block is Blown Quarter of a Mile and Muzzle is Hurled Still Further—Ordinance
Officer Has Narrow Escape.

NEW YORK, DEC. 9.—A gun of 14-inch caliber and of fifty tons weight, the largest and newest type built by the United States government at a cost of $130,000 exploded at the Sandy Hook proving grounds today. While the explosion of smaller guns has taken scores of lives, the big gun blew to pieces without causing so much as a scratch to the men around it.

The two ton breach block was blown a quarter of a mile, the muzzle was hurled still farther away and fragments spread in every direction. Ordnance Officer Michael Brennan, who was standing on the temporary disappearing carriage was not struck, although the structure itself was wrecked. Brennan was thrown many yards but sustained hardly a bruise. The other officers and men in charge of the firing were behind a boom proof wall which protected them from injury. The big gun, which hurled a projectile weighing 1,600 pounds at a range of 12,000 yards was successfully fired several times in tests last month and was believed to be in perfect condition. A charge of 340 pounds of smokeless powder is used.

When the lanyard was pulled today a tremendous explosion followed and broken pieces of the gun were sent in all directions. The muzzle was hurled toward the railway, where it ripped a large section of the track.

Speculation as to the cause of the accident brought out the belief that perhaps the sudden drop in the temperature had some effect on the gun. Another report was that the experiments which were made today were to determine how large a charge the gun would carry.

Officially, however, Lieut. Col. Babbitt who commanded the firing, declared that the cause of the explosions had not been determined. Guns like that which exploded today have been proposed for the fortification of the Panama canal. The type is said to be much longer lived than any previously manufactured, being good for 25 shots, while the old twelve inch type were good for about seventy.

POWDER HOUSE BLOWS UP INJURING ONE; NONE ARE KILLED

One Thousand Pounds of Dynamite
Blow up in Quarry While Fifty
Men Are at Lunch—Twenty-two More Are at Work 150 Feet Away.

Chicago, Dec. 9.—The powder house at the O'Laughlin quarry at Bellwood, ten miles west of here, blew up this afternoon. The quarry workmen were at lunch and while one man was injured, none were killed. The shock of the detonation was distinctly felt over a radius of fifteen miles and windows in sections for miles from Bellwood were broken.

One thousand pounds of dynamite were stored in the powder house, which was at the bottom of the deep pit of the quarry. Twenty-two men were looking within 150 feet of the powder house, but the force of the explosion was upward and none of them was harmed. Fifty quarrymen had just left work and gone to the hoisting elevators to eat their lunches at the surface. A few minutes later the powder house blew up and its roof and upper parts shot out of the pit like a shell from a huge gun, followed by a cloud of smoke and a detonation that shook the ground in a radius of fifteen miles.

The stone crusher and several other buildings on the brink of the pit were partly unroofed but the entire damage was placed at less than $5,000 by the quarry company.

Shock Felt at Lockport.

Joliet, Ill., Dec. 9.—Severe earth shocks were reported this afternoon at Lockport near here and thirty-two miles from Chicago. It is thought they were due to the quarry explosion near Chicago.

VOTED FOR McNAMARA'S RE-ELECTION AS SECRETARY

Indianapolis, Dec. 9.—For voting for John J. McNamara's re-election as secretary of the Milwaukee convention of the International association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers in September, 1911, five months after McNamara was arrested for dynamiting, Edward E. Phillips, Syracuse, N. Y., one of the forty-one accused "bomb plotters" was subjected to severe cross-examination by the government at the trial today. He said he did not know McNamara had been charged with murder but thought from newspaper reports it was dynamiting.

Phillips as secretary of Syracuse local union told of many letters he wrote to McNamara but declared that they pertained to other matters aside from explosions.

THINKS $13,563.404 IS LOW ESTIMATE FOR ESTATE

New York, Dec. 9.—Surrogate John P. Conallan today rejected the transfer tax report made recently on the estate of the late J. S. Pulitzer, proprietor of the New York World and the St. Louis Post-Dispatch. The total value of the estate was given in the report as $13,563,404, but the surrogate declares this amount is an under valuation.

PRESENTS FORMAL NOTE OF PROTEST

Ambassador Bryce Reads
Long Document to Secretary Knox

VIOLATION OF TREATY?

Great Britain Contends That Exemption Order Violates Hay-Pauncefote Treaty

WASHINGTON, DEC. 9.—Great Britain's formal note of protest against the section of the Panama canal act which exempts American coast-wise shipping from paying tolls for passing through the Panama canal, a document written by Sir Edward Grey, British minister for foreign affairs, was presented by Secretary of State Knox tonight by the British ambassador, James Bryce, who read the note word for word to the secretary at the latter's home.

It is an elaboration of the points of objection in the note presented to the state department last July. In brief these objections are:

That while it was clearly in violation of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty either to remit or refund tolls on all American shipping through the canal the same exemption probably would apply to the coast-wise trade shipping in view of the probable impossibility of framing regulations that would not result in a preference to American shipping. In addition to supporting these points by long arguments Sir Edward Grey indicates very clearly that strong resistance will be offered to any attempt to exclude from the canal British ships owned by Canadian railroads or whose owners may be guilty of violating the Sherman anti-trust act. He holds that this section of the act cannot apply to British shipping but only to United States vessels.

He also indicated in his note that underlying the objection to the exemption from toll of American coast-wise ships is an apprehension that in the future the principle might be extended to cover American ships in the foreign trade.

Otherwise the note is devoted almost entirely to an effort to demonstrate that any such exemption of American shipping as is proposed is in direct conflict with the terms of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty and that President Taft was clearly wrong when he took the contrary view. Generally the British note might be summed up as a clear definition of the difference between the two governments regarding the construction of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty winding up with a proposal that the issues should be settled by arbitration, provided that they cannot be adjusted by mutual agreement for which a way remains open. Secretary Knox listened attentively to the reading of the note and promised to take the matter under careful consideration which he felt would require some time. It has been strongly intimated in official circles, however, that it was the president's intention to settle this important question before closing his administration or preferably, by the more direct means of an agreement between the two nations, referred to in today's British note.

The ambassador was accompanied by Mr. Innes, the counsellor and first secretary of the embassy, and in reading the entire British note to the secretary followed precisely the instructions of Sir Edward Grey, the writer of the note.

OFFICER AUTHOR OF SATIRICAL POEM IS ADVISED TO QUIT

Is Asked to Restrain Himself of all Future Poetical Outbursts Which Might Cause International Discussion.

Washington, Dec. 9.—Although the war department was at first inclined to completely ignore the publication of a satirical poem by Captain George Steuenerberg of the 25th United States Infantry, attributing the defeat of the Turkish forces in the Balkan war to their German training and equipment, it has been decided that Major General Leonard Wood, chief of staff of the army will send a private note to Steuenerberg, advising him to restrain himself from such efforts in the future, and this will close the incident.

Diplomatic Washington feared a recurrence of the "Hoch, De Kaiser" incident, when Admiral Coghlan was mildly reprimanded for reciting that poem at a banquet.

General Wood talked about the Steuenerberg poem today with Major von Herwarth, military attaché of the German embassy informally, but no representations were made by the embassy to the state department.

Army officers regard the poem as being as satirical of the United States military organization as it is of Germany's, as all the idols shattered are German authorities whose works are standard in the service school at Fort Leavenworth.

add SPORTING—KANSAS CITY

William Lucas of Kansas City, one of the last men to appear on the albeys tonight, won the singles event with a score of 6-1. The first prize was $100.

D. A. Wolfe of Topeka won the second prize, $75, and A. Karlick of Chicago was third, winning $50.

CEMENT COMPANY OFFICIALS INDICTED

ARE CHARGED BY GRAND JURY OF USING MAILS TO DEFRAUD

Cement Dealers Throughout the Country Are Said to Have Lost to the Empire Portland Cement Co.,
Sums Aggregating $120,000.

CHICAGO, DEC. 9.—Four former officers of the Empire Portland Cement company, with offices in Chicago and Cincinnati have been indicted by the federal grand jury here, it was made known today, on charges of using the mails to defraud. Cement dealers throughout the country have lost sums aggregating $120,000, according to the charges.

The defendants named are Arthur G. Marshall, New York; Albert H. Marshall, Chicago; Harry W. Williams, Sheboygan, Wis.; Albert T. Kirk, Shell City, Mo.

The indictment reads that the Empire Portland Cement company was incorporated in South Dakota in 1910 with an authorized capital of $2,500,000. It is charged that the defendants professed to have large plants at Portsmouth, Ohio, and Menominee, Mich., and sold stock to cement dealers with an agreement that cement of equal value would be given as a bonus with purchases of preferred stock. No cement was delivered on these contracts. It is charged. It is alleged that the company represented that $300,000 was invested in the Portsmouth plant, whereas, according to the indictment only $25,000 was spent on the plant, which was mortgaged to the extent of $142,000. It is alleged that $186,000 worth of stock was sold and $71,000 in promissory notes of cement dealers were found in possession of the company.

The indictments were returned last Wednesday but were suppressed for service. Bond in $10,000 is demanded of each defendant. Albert H. Marshall has given bond.

AGENTS OF INDEPENDENT COMPANIES TESTIFY

Agents of the Osborne Co. Declare That During Time They Were With the "Independent" Company They Did Not Know That It Was Owned by the International Co.

St. Paul, Minn., Dec. 9.—S. H. E. Porter, sales manager for the Independent Harvester company at Minneapolis, and M. H. Gibbs, connected with a time manufacturing company of Xenia, Ohio, testified this afternoon in the government's suit in which it aims to dissolve the International Harvester company, as being a trust in violation of the Sherman law. They said that in 1903 and 1904 they were general agents of the D. M. Osborne company and that while acting under instructions of the officials of the Osborne company they were advertising and telling dealers that the Osborne company was independent of the so-called harvester trust. They testified that while they were doing this they did not know the Osborne concern was a part of the International company. This fact, they said, developed two years afterward.

Mr. Gibbs and Mr. Porter also testified that the six corporations absorbed by the International Harvester company in 1902 were doing from 90 to 95 per cent of the business in the sale of binders, mowers and rakes in the states of Iowa, Nebraska, Minnesota, North and South Dakota, Wisconsin, Missouri, Texas and Oklahoma.

Three other witnesses testified that the International Harvester company had taken their lines away from them because it would not allow its dealers to handle any independent machines.

AMERICAN IS HELD IN MEXICAN PRISON.

Mexico City, Dec. 9.—The American embassy today made representations to the Mexican foreign office regarding the imprisonment at Paral, Chihuahua, of O. J. Langendorf, the brother-in-law of the American consular agent at that town, James I. Langendorf. Langendorf is charged with killing the chief of police. He is the superintendent of a large ore treatment plant. While heading a posse searching for ore thieves Langendorf observed a band of men at some distance. There was an exchange of shots and the chief of police who was one of the band, was shot through the head.

Although the evidence is said to have shown that his weapon was not discharged, Langendorf was placed in jail. Half a dozen ore thieves subsequently were captured.

News despatches say that friends of Langendorf attacked the jail in an attempt to liberate him but it is not known whether this attempt was successful.

ACQUITTED OF MURDER.

Redding, Cal., Dec. 9.—William E. Clements, who shot and killed William Landes a merchant who admitted killing Clements' mother was acquitted of murder by a jury here tonight.

Landes, who claimed self-defense, was released on bail after shooting Mrs. Clements. He celebrated his liberation by sitting on a porch where Clements could hear him and singing "Another Shovel Full of Earth on Mother's Grave."

A few days later Landes was shot dead from ambush, and Clements told the district attorney he did the shooting.

"I am not ashamed of it," he said. "He killed the best friends I ever had—my mother."

PASS $34,900,583 APPROPRIATION BILL

For Operation of Three Great Departments of the Government

ASKS $54,500 INSERT

Rep. Gillette Makes Effort to Insert Appropriation for Commerce Court

MONDAY IN CONGRESS.

Senate.
Convened at noon.
Senator Overman introduced joint resolution authorizing joint inauguration committee of six members.

Judiciary committee informally considered President Taft's judicial appointments.
Senator Works spoke advocating his resolution for a single six year presidential term.

President Taft transmitted report of economy and efficiency commission recommending radical changes in patent office procedure.
Court of impeachment resumed trial of Judge Robert W. Archbald.

House.
Convened at noon.
Resumed consideration of legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill.

Democratic members of the ways and means committee conferred on plans for tariff revision at special session.
The first week in January was set for hearings.

Representative Lindbergh introduced resolution to require each senator and representative to file statement showing his pecuniary interest in any banking, loaning or brokerage business.

Representative Allen introduced resolution proposing a general investigation of the canning industry.
Banking and currency subcommittee resumed hearings in "money trust" investigation.

Chairman Pappas, making statement, repudiating reports as to committee intentions.

WASHINGTON, DEC. 9.—Carry ing appropriations aggregating $34,900,538 for the operation of three great departments of the government during the next fiscal year the annual legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill was passed by the house late today.

Just before the vote was taken, Representative Gillette of Massachusetts made an unsuccessful effort to have inserted an appropriation of $54,500 for the maintenance of the commerce court. His motion was voted down 33 to 33. Provision for the commerce court up to March 4th, 1913, was made at the last session.

Revision Will Be Thorough.
Thorough revision, schedule by schedule of the present tariff law by the next congress was indicated by the decision of the Democratic members of the house ways and means committee today to have hearings on the tariff every Monday, Wednesday and Friday in January, beginning January 6th. One day will be devoted to each schedule, though if necessary in any case not exceeding two days will be allowed. There are fourteen schedules but by merging two or three of the minor schedules with the adjoining important schedules the committee expects to get through with the hearings by the end of January. The schedules will be considered in their regular sequence in the present tariff law. The action of the Democrats of the committee designed to seek light for enemies in framing the tariff revision, will be raised at a meeting of the full committee tomorrow morning.

Rostron Enters Senate.

Whether a British private citizen honored with the thanks of congress and a congressional medal has a right to enter upon the floor of the United States senate chamber is a question which gave the officials of that body some busy moments today. Captain Arthur Rostron, rescuer of over 700 survivors from the Titanic came into the senate under the escort of Senator William Alden Smith, of Michigan, and spent some time meeting members of that body. Officials of the senate tonight had not yet determined whether he was entitled to the privilege of the floor.

The Titanic hero visited both houses of congress with Senator Smith. No question was raised in the house as to his eligibility there, the vote of thanks from congress carrying with it the privilege of entering that body at any time. Senator Smith insisted tonight that Captain Rostron was entitled to like privileges in the senate.

Engineer Testifies.

James H. Rittenhouse of Scranton, Pa., an expert mining engineer, who surveyed the Katy-did cwm bank at Scranton under direction of W. L. Brown of the department of justice, testified today in the impeachment trial of Judge Robert W. Archbald.

WILSON TOO BUSY FOR ANY ENGAGEMENTS

DECLINES ALL INVITATIONS AND SPEAKING APPOINTMENTS

Has Not Reached Any Conclusions
Concerning Cabinet Appointments
—Will Leave Bermuda Saturday to Arrive in New York Dec. 16.

HAMILTON, BERMUDA, DEC. 9.—"Being governor of a state and preparing to be a president of a nation, both at the same time, is sufficient to keep a man busy," remarked President-elect Wilson today when he announced that he positively would make no more speaking engagements before March 4th. Every mail has brought him scores of invitations, but all have been declined. The president-elect accepted three invitations long before he was elected, and these he will keep. He will speak before the southern society of New York, Dec. 17th, the day after his return from Bermuda; at the jubilee celebration at his birth place, Staunton, Va., on his birthday Dec. 28th, and at the banquet of the commercial club of Chicago, January 11th.

Governor Wilson says he has no plans for his course after reaching New York, dates for meeting William Jennings Bryan and others having not been fixed as yet.

Mr. Wilson said he thought he would make most of his appointments from Trenton for that was an easier place than Princeton to get in and out by train for some of his busiest callers.

As to the personnel of his cabinet the president-elect admitted that much of his mail contained letters commendatory of various persons.

"Of course selections have been running through my head," he added "but I have formed no conclusions."

The governor will leave here on the steamer Bermuda next Saturday morning and is due in New York next Monday, Dec. 16th. He said he would go direct to his home in Princeton.

ADVOCATE INTER-DENOMINATIONAL BODY TO SUPERVISE EVANGEL- LISTS AND REVIVALS

Each of the Thirty-two Denominations Represented in the Federal Council of Churches of Christ Will Have a Member on the Commission.

Chicago, Dec. 9.—An inter-denominational committee to supervise evangelists and religious revivals was voted by the federal council of churches of Christ in America here today in the closing session of its second quadrennial meeting. The novel idea of a commission of all denominations to regulate revivals and revival methods did not go through without opposition.

"I cannot conceive of any commission controlling the temper of average evangelist," said Rev. Edwin H. Dalk, of Philadelphia.

Each of the thirty-two denominations represented in the federal council will have a member on the commission. Financing, advertising and equipment of evangelistic campaigns will be controlled by the commission.

The Rev. W. R. Bederford, of Winona Lake, Ind., an evangelist, said:

"The evangelists need no ordination and no fitness for their work but a fancied one. The commission will standardize the work."

"The church long has been waiting for somebody with the power to step in and eliminate objectionable features."

The council adjourned this afternoon. The next meeting place will be announced by the executive committee.

"We are going to Christianize civilization or be unchristianized," said Dean Shaller Matthews of University of Chicago, the new president of the council in his final address of the meeting.

"The church is facing its crisis, and the next few years must tell. We are not facing discussions of theological differences but the question of whether we shall believe in God or some material chair."

HAND WRITING EXPERT TESTIFIES

Houlton, Me., Dec. 9.—The handwriting in the "suicide note" found near the body of August Jacobson at New Sweden, on June 12th, 1911, resembled that of the Rev. Charles N. Emelius, the minister, who with the widow and son the dead man, is on trial for Jacobson's murder, according to the testimony today of William F. Hingston of Boston, a handwriting expert.

Emelius also testified that the signature of the note was a drawn copy of Jacobson's signature, and that the note had many characteristics of handwriting submitted to him as that of Emelius. The state rested its case, and the opening statement of the defense was made before court adjourned.

NAME CHAIRMAN TODAY.

Washington, Dec. 9.—Two days of conference between Chairman W. F. McCombs of the Democratic national committee and party leaders in and out of congress, came to an end late today when Mr. McCombs left for New York. He stated that he would make public there tomorrow the name of the chairman of the inaugural committee which will have charge of preparation for the display connected with President-elect Wilson's induction into office.

AUSTRIAN CHANGE EFFECTS SITUATION

Minister of War Resigns and Fleet Concentrates at Naval Station

BORROWS $50,000,000

Movements Will Have Wide Political Influence and Disquieting Effect on Situation

LONDON, DEC. 9.—Sudden resignation of the Austrian-Hungarian minister of war, General Schumuss and the chief of general staff, the reported concentration of the entire Austrian fleet at Pola, its chief naval station, and Austria's negotiations for a temporary loan of $50,000,000 were chief developments in the Balkan war situation today.

No explanation is yet forthcoming of the Austrian war department change and coming at such a time as the present it cannot be doubted that it will have a wide political significance.

It had been expected that in event of war General Von Huebner would be appointed chief of staff and his appointment now to succeed General Schumuss coupled with the news of the renewal of the Dreibund, and that Austria-Hungary has negotiated temporary loans of $50,000,000 cannot but have a disquieting effect on the international situation.

It is supposed that Austria wishes possibly to exert a strong influence over the coming conference proceedings at London and especially to prevent the entry of Turkey into the Balkan federation.

The Austrian war party is known to be inflamed against Russia, in the belief that the defiant Russian attitude is due to the Franco-Russian alliance, and some of the Austrian newspapers, representing the war party are urging that unless Russia ceases mobilization the powers comprising the triple alliance should fall upon France and crush her before Russia is able to intervene.

However, the crisis may end the war fever is having its effect upon Austrian-Hungarian trade. A financial uneasiness prevailed throughout Galicia where the various banks recently have paid out more than $40,000,000 to nervous depositors, without stemming the run.

Austria Borrows $25,000,000.

Vienna, Dec. 9.—The Austrian government has negotiated with a syndicate headed by the Austrian postal savings bank, and including Kuhn, Loeb & Co., and the National City Bank of New York for an issue of 4 1/2 per cent treasury bonds to the amount of $25,000,000, which will be taken at 97, redeemable at par at 18 months and two years.

The Hungarian finance minister has issued through the Hungarian credit bank treasury bonds to the same amount and under the same conditions. The bonds are gold loans. It is announced that the Dreibund renewal is for six years and that it would have been renewed automatically for the same period if no notice of expiration had been given. This fact gives significance to the renewal of the compact at the moment of a serious international crisis. The Zeitung learns that Serbia's demands at the coming peace conference will include the whole of Northern Albania and as this will lead Austria to define her counter demand a decisive phase in the Austro-Serbian difference will soon be reached.

A despatch from Berlin to the Reichspost says all classes of Servians subject to the war draft have been summoned to join the colors within 24 hours. Many workshops and factories in Serbia are busy making winter clothing for the army. Soldiers returning from the Balkan campaign are allowed only a short furlough; the officers are allowed none.

GIVES ASSOCIATION $15,000.
Cordoba, Kan., Dec. 9.—The National Woman's Suffrage association became $15,000 richer by the will of Mrs. Lillia Buckley, made public here today.

Mrs. Buckley, who gave financial assistance to the recent "votes for women" campaign in Kansas died last month. Her estate is estimated to be worth $75,000.

WEATHER INDICATIONS AND TEMPERATURES.

Washington, Dec. 9.—For Illinois: Fair Tuesday; Wednesday fair, colder in north portion, brisk and high southwest, shifting to northwest winds.

Temperatures.
Chicago, Dec. 9.—The current, maximum and minimum temperatures today were:

FUNERAL SERVICES HELD

FOR MRS. HARRIET DAVIS

Many Friends Pay Tribute to Her Memory—George F. Birkenhead Laid to Rest.

The funeral services held Sunday afternoon for Mrs. Harriet Davis at the family home on South West street were impressively simple and in accord with the expressed wishes of Mrs. Davis. Dr. R. O. Post pastor of the Congregational church and who had often visited Mrs. Davis at the hospital was in charge of the service. He read the 90th Psalm and the 14th chapter of John, passages of scripture which were very dear to the departed and which she had requested that he use at the service in her memory.

In language beautifully chosen the minister referred to the faith and spirit which had made the life of Mrs. Davis notable. He had known her in sickness and health and in the close relationship of a pastor and parishoner had come to a full appreciation of the depth and beauty of her character. He said that Mrs. Davis was primarily a home lover, a deep lover of nature and yet that these interests did not dull her thoughtfulness and love for those outside of her own home. Her life was one long example of faithfulness, of devotion, of self-sacrifice and when toward the end of her journey there came days of pain yet there was no word of complaint or of bitterness from her lips. With a simple feeling prayer Dr. Post closed his remarks.

Hymns dear to Mrs. Davis were sung by Mrs. Truman P. Carter, Miss Katherine Rogerson, Stanley Post and A. F. Cook. The cortege moved from the house to Diamond Grove cemetery where Dr. Post said the committal service. The flowers were cared for by young women who served in the same tender capacity when Mrs. Davis' daughter passed beyond a few years ago. Mrs. O. E. Porter of Oak Park, Mrs. Burr Swan of Pittsfield and Miss Grace Wharton. So profuse and beautiful floral offerings have seldom, if ever been seen in Jacksonville. The city council, the seven city departments, the degree team of the Red Men, the Eagles, Elks, Knights of Pythias and the great sashmen of the I. O. R. M. were represented, in addition to many individual friends of the family.

The bearers were Charles A. Gridley of Virginia and the following from the Congregational church: George L. Merrill, Dr. W. W. Schermerhorn, S. A. Fairbanks, T. P. Carter, and Marcus Robinson.

Woodall. Robert Woodall, an elderly and highly respected citizen of Winchester, died at his home in that place Sunday night at the age of 74 years. He leaves a wife, eleven children and a number of grandchildren. The wife and children were with him at the time of his death.

He was stricken with paralysis last spring and since that time has been gradually failing.

His sons are H. L., residing on South Diamond street, this city; Chas. of Manchester, W. L. James, Oliver and Jesse of Winchester and vicinity; daughters are Mrs. P. A. Dolan, Mrs. Chas. Lashmet, Mrs. John Fraser of Winchester and vicinity and Miss Bertha at home. He also leaves 39 grandchildren and one brother, William of Winchester, a sister, Mrs. Esther Ellis of Winchester and two sisters in Oregon.

The funeral will be held Wednesday at 1 p. m. in the Methodist church at Winchester.

Birkenhead. The funeral of George F. Birkenhead was held Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at his late residence on East Independence avenue, where many friends gathered to show a final tribute of respect for the memory of a man highly esteemed by those who knew him. The impressive services were in charge of Rev. A. F. Ewert.

After speaking briefly of the life of the deceased, and of his worthy place in the community, Rev. Mr. Ewert said in part:

"There are three things which an hour like this brings to our attention. First, it gives us a new sense of the real depth of life. We have met together apart from the busy pursuits of life, and in the pause and stillness of this solemn hour, we learn anew that life is deeper than the things we see or hear or handle. We feel that beneath all of these is the true reality of our life. We are conscious of an unsuspected depth of love which only death has sounded. And so the historian when writing of Jew or Christian fixes upon these inner elements of character as the things of abiding value. He passes over their days of fasting, their laying on of hands, their mere observance of holy days, their business or real estate, as being of no more value than the costumes they wore or the carriages in which they rode. But the values that are emphasized as abiding and real are their faith, their charity, their hope of heaven. Through all the generations this earth has swallowed up man's children, but he still holds his faith in a familiar beyond; and here we now realize that the faith and love of our life do not die, but reach out beyond the tomb.

"This hour reveals also a new objective to life—we do not go through this experience without feeling that those whom we have loved and lost have gone to prepare a place for us. We somehow feel that they have preceded us to another country; and henceforth we begin to live as though preparing for a long journey.

"This supreme hour of our life's experience is an evidence also of our essential brotherhood. Differences are forgotten and the things that so often divide us seem fewer in number and less in importance than the things that really unite us. We are aware that we are members of one family, facing the same experiences and sharing the same sorrows. It seems altogether natural that we should at such a time meet together in this home, to express in some way, if possible, our sympathy and love.

This moment we step away from our human experiences we lose our bearings. We pass an unfortunate man upon the street perhaps without a moment's concern or pity, but let that inarticulate sorrow, that bewildering loss, that poignant pain; let that come to self, and how quickly the heart measures the depth of the experience. And this hour that so clearly and beautifully reveals our essential brotherhood, means that henceforth we should bring every human case before the tribunal of this loving, trembling, sensitive self and try it by the Golden Rule in the light of self-love, self-interest—testing pain by our own pain, human wants by our own needs, and all of life by our own experience. This expression of our friendly interest and sympathy should more and more become the common law, the daily attitude, the habitual expression of our life toward all men everywhere."

Mr. Birkenhead was a man who had lived a comparatively quiet life for a number of years. In 1891 he was severely injured in the wreck of the Red Express on the old J. S. E. line and he never fully recovered from his injuries. For many months he had been failing gradually, yet he never complained and when anyone asked him as to his health the reply was always cheerful.

Mr. and Mrs. Birkenhead had been married for twenty-five years and they had been more than usually devoted to each other and their home. Mrs. Birkenhead and the sympathy of a wide circle of friends.

The music Sunday was supplied by Miss Clara Ransom, Mrs. T. H. Rapp, A. C. Metcalf and W. W. Gillham. The many beautiful flowers were in charge of Mrs. Carrie Phillips, Miss Bea Phillips, Mrs. Craven and Mrs. Devitt. Interment was in Jacksonville cemetery and the bearers were Messrs. F. L. Haigrove, Newton Angel, Abner Obermeyer, E. E. Bavington, L. P. Allcott and George Hoover.

Covey.

William Covey, a former resident of the Franklin neighborhood, died at 10 o'clock Monday morning at the home of his daughter, Mrs. George Watkins in Springfield. The deceased was 77 years of age and his death was the result of a complication of diseases. He was born near Franklin and spent the greater part of his life in this county. He was a soldier in the war of the rebellion and at one time served this county as commissioner. His life was such that he was highly esteemed by everyone who knew him. Five years ago he went from this county to Petersburg to live with his daughter, Mrs. Watkins, and about a year ago the family moved to Springfield.

The funeral will be held Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock at the residence of Mrs. Watkins, 924 North Fifth street, Springfield. Interment will be at Petersburg.

Wagoner.

Funeral services for George Wagoner were held Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at Mt. Emory Baptist church in charge of Rev. Mr. Russell. Music was furnished by the church choir and the many beautiful flowers were in charge of Mrs. David Douglas and Mrs. Washington.

Interment was made in Jacksonville cemetery and the bearers were: Julius Rice, James Matthews, William Jones, Henry Welbourn, J. M. Ross and David Douglas.

Rogers.

Walter Rogers of Quincy died Sunday morning at the Jacksonville State hospital and the remains were removed to the Gillham undertaking establishment, later being sent to Quincy, where funeral services will be held and interment will be made.

Faugust.

Oscar Faugust died Monday morning at 2:50 o'clock at his residence, 746 East College avenue. Last Friday, while repairing a tin roof on a shed at his residence, Mr. Faugust stepped on a piece of unspaced tin and fell ten feet to the ground, head first, receiving injuries to his neck and spinal column, which later caused his death.

Mr. Faugust was born in Sweden, Nov. 5, 1859, and was married to Miss Lydia Sandberg at Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 23, 1883. Mr. Faugust had been a resident of the state of Illinois for the past twenty-five years and for a long period had been a resident of this city. He was a sheet metal worker by occupation, a member of the Modern Woodmen and of the Tribe of Ben Hur. The deceased was a member of the Swedish Lutheran church and was highly respected by a large circle of friends for his honesty and integrity. Mr. Faugust is survived by his wife and the following children: Augustaf, Carl, Hulda, Nellie Frederick and William; also two sisters, Mrs. Ann Nord of Sioux City, Ia., and Mrs. Augustaf Nordstrang of Dayton, Ia.; one brother, Alfred L. Faugust of Waverly, Ia., and two grandchildren, Russell A. and Charles Faugust of this city.

Funeral services will be held from the residence, 746 East College avenue, Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in charge of Rev. W. L. Dorgan, pastor of the Central Christian church and interment will be made in Diamond Grove cemetery.

Eades.

The remains of Arthur Eades, who died in St. Louis Saturday afternoon, arrived in this city Sunday evening via the Chicago & Alton. Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the residence of Frank Eades, a brother of the deceased, on Reid street, in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends. The services were in charge of Rev. Clyde Darste, pastor of the Central Christian church, who spoke words of comfort to the bereaved relatives. Suitable music was furnished by a quartet composed of Mrs. Campbell, Miss Cora Graham, Rev. Clyde Darste and Arthur Cody, and the beautiful flowers were cared for by Mrs. Ethel Jones.

Interment was made in Jacksonville cemetery and the bearers were: John H. Hett, Sr., John H. Hett, Jr., M. E. Connelly, J. A. Crum, George W. Eads and W. J. Eads. Among those from out of the city who attended the services were Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Eades and Joseph Eades, of Peoria.

AT THE GRAND.

Perhaps the company appearing in George Barr McCutcheon's "Beverly" at the Grand opera house tonight contains the names of more prominent players than have appeared here with any other attraction this season. Eleanor Woodruff, who plays Beverly Calhoun, although a very young girl, has played leading roles with Nat Goodwin and the lead with Cyril Scott in "The Prince Chap," and only recently returned from a starring in Australia under the management of J. C. Williamson and Charles Frohman of the Antipodes. Lawrence Ewert, who plays Prince Danton was for six years leading man with Walker Whiteside and has also successfully starred in romantic drama. Edith Berwyn who plays Princess Yevie, has enacted leading roles with many high class organizations, including David Belasco's "Sweet Kitty Bellairs" and that poetic drama, "The Road to Yesterday."

Mr. Tutz is field secretary for the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, the national organization which was launched in Washington,

D. C., last April. This great organization is for the purpose of considering problems of national importance, and serves as a clearing house for gathering and disseminating information contributed by the many commercial organizations of cities scattered throughout the whole country.

Mr. Tutz is a resident of Chicago and has been actively identified with the Chicago Association of Commerce. He is a man of striking personality and a most fluent and polished orator. He has addressed commercial organizations from coast to

APPROPRIATION BILL

Archbald of the commerce court that the Erie railroad could have secured $35,000 for the coal out of the refuse, instead of the $4,500 for which they agreed to give an option to E. J. Williams, the business associate of Judge Archbald. The testimony of the mining engineer was introduced by the house managers in the effort to show that through Judge Archbald's influence E. J. Williams had secured option at $4,500 for the Erie's share of the dump, when the real value of the property to the railroad was much greater.

The appointment of Carmel Thompson, President Taft's former secretary as treasurer of the United States was unanimously confirmed by the senate today.

Appointed Disbursing Clerk.

Dr. Alvah H. Thompson, of Wichita, Kan., today was appointed by Secretary Fisher, to be disbursing clerk of the pension service and pay out annually the $180,000,000 which has been handled through the 18 pension agencies which were abolished January 31st. Dr. Thompson now is chief of the finance division of the pension service, having risen from a clerkship in which he began 23 years ago.

BANDITS HOLDUP TRAIN AT BAKERSFIELD AND GET $20,000

Robbers Make Big Haul When They Loot Car Containing Money Consigned From Bakersfield to First National Bank of Taft.

Bakersfield, Calif., Dec. 9.—Twenty thousand dollars in gold was the haul of two robbers who held up the express car of the Sunset Western train bound from Bakersfield, for Taft, Calif., tonight. The money was consigned to the First National bank at Taft by the First National bank of Bakersfield. It was not placed in the express safe.

When the train arrived at Taft, railroad men were forced to break down the door of the express car. In a corner covered with mail sacks was M. W. Hamby, the express messenger, who was just regaining consciousness.

Hamby was injured about the head but physicians declared he was apparently not seriously hurt. Hamby said two men entered the car just as the train was leaving Maricopa. He did not know whether they were masked and was unable to tell how he was rendered unconscious and could give no description of the robbers.

Officials of the First National bank here said $20,000 had been shipped to Taft and that they had been notified of the theft.

Several posses left here for the scene of the robbery and others are searching the vicinity of Maricopa and Taft.

CHICAGO FIREMEN HAVE FIGHT WITH DIFFICULT FIRE

Chicago, Dec. 9.—A three-story onion warehouse containing many tons of the vegetables caught fire here tonight and blazed up rapidly a few doors from a west side hospital. The hospital officials requested the firemen not to sound their gongs or make unnecessary noises and there followed the spectacle of fire chiefs communicating with their lieutenants by signs and sending notes to the pipemen.

The silent fire fight was foiled however by the powerful odor of the boiling and frying onions which were being cooked a ton at a time in the burning building. The smell pervaded the entire district within half a mile radius. Several firemen were overcome by smoke and one pipe crew after another was put out of action by the tear compelling power of the raw onions on the lower floors.

ON CONTEMPT CHARGE.

Fremont, Neb., Dec. 9.—On his own motion, Judge Hollenbeck in the district court today summoned Frank McGivern, a prominent banker and his divorced wife, Mrs. Rose McGivern, to appear in his court Saturday on a contempt charge. They are cited to show cause why the divorce, carrying with it alimony of $15,000 which was granted a week ago, should not be set aside because of fraud.

The action of the court resulted from an interview printed in an Omaha paper, in which McGivern was credited with having said the deeds charged against him were purposely committed.

BRIGGS TRIAL BEGINS.

Wahio, Neb., Dec. 9.—The trial of Chief of Police John Briggs of South Omaha, charged with killing Roy Hunt, a young farmer, while the latter was being held as a hostage by three escaped convicts from the Nebraska penitentiary, began in district court today. A jury was secured before court adjourned. Chief Briggs, who formed one member of the posse which killed two of the convicts and captured a third, is jointly accused with Sheriff Myers of

HAIR TELLS CHARACTER.

Color of Hair Said to Indicate a Person's Temperament.

Many people believe that blonde, or light hair denotes affection and dark hair constancy. A person without hair is not devoid of character; far from it. The disposition of the average bald-headed man is to show such solicitude for the welfare of others, that he neglects himself. A germ causes baldness. Prof. Sabouraud, of Paris, France, inoculated a rabbit with Dandruff germs, causing it to become totally bald in five weeks' time. To rid the scalp of these dangerous germs it is necessary to apply Newbro's Herpicide.

WILSON TO FILL THREE HUNDRED POSITIONS

SALARIES OF $1,153,700 ARE INVOLVED.

Big Sum Involved Annually in Comparatively Few Positions at His Disposal.

Washington, Dec. 9.—President Wilson will have at his disposal in the entire civil service establishment in Washington just about 300 positions which he may fill during his term of office.

This includes everything from nine members of the cabinet down to the coachman for those officials to whom coachmen are provided by the government, coachmen and cabinet members are alike in that there is no civil service requirement that they shall be competent to hold their jobs.

Out of the 28,000 or less, of government positions in Washington, this is the whole pie that can be sliced and distributed by the president. Still it's some pie, for it includes the best salaries in the government.

In addition to these officials included in this count there are places on the supreme bench. These are not counted, because it is impossible to guess how many of them may be subjected to the president's appointment. He can't remove supreme judges, but he does have the authority to appoint them—if he doesn't quarrel with the senate about it.

This list, prepared by official authority, but making no pretense to absolute accuracy or completeness, is nevertheless as correct as the best informed officials can make it.

Here, in brief, is what it shows: For all these positions, the president makes the appointments, for a minority of them, confirmation by the senate is required. The rest are appointed by the president without the necessity of this confirmation.

The annual salaries of these positions total, under present laws, $1,153,700. This is the amount that, in Washington, the president may be said to control.

However, this control is, in fact, only nominal, as to many of these positions. For example, there are seven members of the interstate commerce commission. One commissioner's term expires every year, so that the most recently appointed members will not reach the end of their terms during Mr. Wilson's administration.

As a matter of courtesy it is customary for officials holding positions of the higher class to tender their resignations to the new president, but the resignations are not accepted when involving positions to which the appointment is made for fixed terms. Other resignations may be accepted when and as the president is prepared to make new appointments to the positions.

QUIT CALOMEL!

Thousands Are Turning From This Dangerous Drug.
A Safe Vegetable Substitute Is Olive Tablets for the Liver.

Dr. F. M. Edwards, a prominent physician of Ohio, has discovered a new laxative and liver toner in a combination of vegetable materials, mixed with olive oil, which is in effect almost exactly like the old and untrustworthy calomel, except that there are none of the bad after effects of calomel.

Dr. Edwards has long been a foe of calomel, though he recognized its value along with its dangers. His distrust of the uncertain drug eventually started him years ago towards experiments with the view of discovering a substitute, and he is today in possession of the long-sought-for combination, which is in the shape of a little sugar-coated, olive oil colored tablet.

The results of 17 years' experience and practice are embodied in these marvelous little tablets. They are called Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. They oil the bowels, and their effect on the liver has been the means of relief to many of Dr. Edwards' regular patients as well as to thousands of others who have suffered and were afraid of calomel.

They are gentle in their action, yet always effective. They bring about that exuberance of spirit that natural buoyancy which should be enjoyed by everyone, by toning up the liver and clearing the system of harmful impurities. 10c and 25c per box. The Olive Oil Company, Columbus, O.

WAFFLE BREAKFAST.

The students of the Woman's college, who are residents of Indiana recently formed an Indiana society, and the organization is one of the live societies of that institution. Monday morning the members to the number of 35 enjoyed a waffle breakfast at Peacock Inn. The place cards were very unique, consisting of miniature maps of Indiana. In the part of the state where each girl resided a tiny picture of the girl was placed and each guest was requested to find her place at the table by picking out her picture. The breakfast was greatly enjoyed as well as a social time. Miss Weaver, Miss Miller and Miss Johnson acted as chaperons.

BIRTHDAY GATHERING.

The 90th Anniversary of Mrs. James H. Lorton Duly Honored.

Sunday was the 90th birthday of Mrs. James H. Lorton and the occasion was duly celebrated at the home of her son, Benjamin, east of the city, where were gathered her sons, Benjamin, William S. and Robert; daughter, Mrs. Logan Black and husband, grandson Henry Smith, wife and two children, besides several friends, including James Scott, Theodore Tyrrell and others. A sumptuous dinner was greatly enjoyed by all present and the good lady in whose honor the people had gathered was very happy. She is yet in the full possession of her faculties and is remarkably strong and hearty for one of her age. She stood the day very well and was greatly pleased with the honor and attention bestowed on her. May she live to see many more such occasions is the prayer of her children, other relatives and friends.

NEW HOG DISEASE.

Mt. Sterling, Ill., Dec. 9.—The farmers and hog raisers of Brown county are becoming alarmed at the spreading of a disease among hogs over the county, of which many are of the opinion is not cholera, at least it differs from the usual type of that disease, with which farmers have long been familiar. However, it is usually fatal, whatever it may be designated.

Among those who have recently lost hogs are Ben Simmons, John McPhail, Henry Elbus, E. G. Wegs, Geo. Market, Earl Shankland and Harry Taylor. Homer Bradney and Amos Coffman have recently had their herds vaccinated and hope to escape the disease. Dr. F. H. Ames, the local veterinarian, says the increase in the number of cases is due to neglect in taking proper precautions by the use of the serum treatment, recommended by the state live stock commission. He attributes the increased sickness at this time to hogs being confined in imperfect pens where the germs have been kept alive from former cases. This difficulty may be removed, he says, by cleaning the pens thoroughly, spraying with formaldehyde or carbolic acid, and applying a coat of strong white wash to the walls.

California Woman Seriously Alarmed

"A short time ago I contracted a severe cold which settled on my lungs and caused me a great deal of annoyance. I would have had coughing spells and my lungs were so sore and inflamed I began to be seriously alarmed. A friend recommended Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, saying she had used it for years. I bought a bottle and it relieved my cough the first night, and in a week I was rid of the cold and soreness of my lungs," writes Miss Marie Gerber, Sawtelle, Cal. For sale by all dealers.

The economy is absolutely positive.

A housekeeper said: "Of course I know Price's Baking Powder makes better food, and I always use it for fine cakes and Sunday food, but for ordinary baking I use another powder because it is lower priced."

The following statement is easily verified: In making a dozen tea biscuits the difference in cost between the use of Price's Baking Powder, a pure, healthful, cream of tartar powder, and the low priced or alum powder is one fifth of a cent.

To Save one-fifth of a Cent do not risk having the biscuit tainted with alum, inferior in taste and unwholesome.

GIVES IMPRESSIONS OF VISIT AT OXFORD

Melville Kennedy Tells of Famous College in England—Compares Its Equipment With That of Institutions Here—Notes of Travel.

The following is an extract from a letter written from York, England, by Melville T. Kennedy, formerly of Jacksonville.

Royal Station Hotel, York.
Dear Mother and all the Circle: It is now evening of Wednesday and I am not quite sure just how many days there are of which I have not told you. I think I carried you up to Friday, just before our arrival at Oxford.

One really ought to write each day's doings at night, for seeing as much as we are, a few days produce a grand conglomeration picture, the details of which it is not easy to recall, especially in order of sight.

As you will realize no doubt, we are going under pressure and crowding our schedule as full as we can. Many things we can only see hurriedly and in a panoramic fashion, consequently with the effect often that such a scene gives a general beauty and harmony, but lacking detail. We made the mistake of staying too long in London at the beginning, thus rushing all the other places. And now, too late to profit by the knowledge, we find that our trunks (and therefore ourselves) must be back in London in the hands of the P. and O. Co. three full days before the sailing date, necessitating our getting back to London a day or two sooner than we had planned.

Because of this situation we stayed in Cambridge from noon to noon, only, instead of several days, and are getting up to the Scotland for the extra day or so. But we saw almost all the best things in Cambridge externally, of course; we couldn't do libraries, etc.) in this short time, by good use of our time.

Friday afternoon at Oxford we got a sort of introduction to the town and the general style of the colleges. So we knew just how to go at the business Saturday. It probably spoke at Balliol and Trinity colleges that first day. The first was of interest to me as the college where with Jowett, the Greek scholar, was connected so long.

Both of these colleges were arranged on the same plan: a good sized quadrangle of chapel, hall and dormitory, and lecture rooms opening on to a smaller enclosure perhaps with large gardens in the rear. I. e., beautiful lawn, great trees, walks and shrubbery, etc., varying elaborateness. The idea of a college as set in the midst of a large campus as at Illinois college, made up of separate buildings grouped variously, is pretty much foreign to the English conception as worked out in both Cambridge and Oxford. It was quite surprising to find the colleges so mixed up with the town, and so little set aside in our American way.

The main entrance to practically every one of the two score or more colleges in Oxford open right off from the streets of the town in the business section. Once inside their walls of course, you are shut off entirely and the beautiful gardens are delightful, but, with a few exceptions, these spaces are strictly limited. Each college has its own chapel, large hall for eating, and hotel or dormitory. It is a center in itself, having its own tutors, fellows, etc. The university comprises all the colleges and men go variously throughout the university for different lectures, subjects, professors and so on. I do not understand all the details of the system for it is radically different from our own.

Inevitably, as one goes through the different colleges, each with its glorious old chapel and hall, hoary with antiquity and gloriously rich in things money can't produce, the thought comes of the enormous outlay here for a group of a few men. To us it looks like colossal extravagance; twenty magnificent and priceless equipments for 3,000 men, when with us one equipment serves for all. Some of the colleges have scarcely more than a score of students; the larger ones running with several hundred, but rarely at this higher figure. The chapel services in some cases are kept up splendidly as to choir and music and continue the year round, regardless of who goes. All day Saturday, with guide book in hand, we industriously invaded college after college, seeking the chief points of interest and those things that characterized especially any particular place.

Christ Church college was the most interesting. It has a magnificent great "quad," the largest in Oxford, and a splendid great bell tower. I think I sent a picture of this. The chapel here is really a cathedral and so classed (among the smaller) for here is a unique situation: the union of a collegiate foundation and an ecclesiastical see.

Colored windows by Burne Jones were of particular interest here. The great hall was quite the finest we have seen—great medieval room with great portraits all around, innumerable seals and cases of arms, and enormous fire places on either side, one of them being ablaze with what seemed a half ton of coal! Here Charles I held his remnant of parliament when Cromwell was rising. Here the students dine. Seems almost sacrilegious, doesn't it?

In some of the colleges the quadrangles were cloisters, i. e., with covered passages on each side open toward the center. At Magdalen college the great cloister is considered the finest in England, not excepting that of any cathedral. Everywhere there were evidences of age. Most of the colleges were founded from 1400 to 1600 to 1700 and the oldest go back to 1200 or 1300. Except where imperative, nothing can be done to the buildings. Dinginess evidently seems virtue. Often the stone has worn off by erosion until the effect is positively shabby and blotchy. One quadrangle was the grimmest, dirtiest, most worn eaten looking stone work I've seen for a long time. To our ideas of neatness and architectural beauty, developed by our buildings of clean cut stone or brilliant polished marbles, these antique piles are rather depressing taken in such large doses.

A BATTLE IN THE SEA.

Wanton Slaughter When Bluefish and Menhaden Meet.

Did you ever see bluefish charge a school of menhaden at sea? That is something worth seeing. The bluefish throw their lines forward until they almost surround the menhaden, and they attack them flank and rear. The menhaden fairly make the water boil in their efforts to escape, while all around the enemy is at them tearing relentlessly.

Into all this commotion comes a great shark. It's a picnic for the shark, a school of menhaden all heeded up for his benefit. It swims leisurely into the midst of them, opens its mouth and takes in half a dozen menhaden at a gulp. It swims around and bites off half a dozen more from the school. It gorges itself without effort.

But the menhaden are not nearly as much disturbed by the presence of the monster swimming about among them as they are by the charging bluefish. The shark takes half a dozen fish or more at a bite, while the bluefish only bites a piece out of a single fish, but there is only one shark, while there may be thousands of bluefish plunging and tearing incessantly and killing and maiming at every stroke.

The shark's a brute, but under such circumstances the menhaden have less of fear than they have of contempt for him.

WONDERS OF BAALBEC.

A Building Problem That Has Puzzled Modern Engineers.

Baalbec, or Baalbek, is the name given a ruined city lying in ancient Coele Syria, forty-five miles northwest of Damascus.

There is nothing particularly remarkable about a ruined city being found in the locality mentioned, but the size of the blocks of stone used by the ancient builders of this particular city is something that has puzzled the modern engineers since the day when Baalbek was first made the Mecca of the oriental traveler.

There are immense stones on every side of the visitor to this ancient pile of ruins, but the three most remarkable blocks—said to be the largest ever used in the construction of a building—are in a wall back of the temple of Baal.

These immense stones are respectively sixty-four, sixty-three and sixty-two feet in length and each is thirteen feet in thickness, but the most wonderful thing in connection with them is the fact they are at a place in the wall twenty-five feet from the ground. How these immense blocks of granite were ever raised to such a height is a question that has never yet been answered.

Tiger and Lion.
"One time in order to test the courage of a Bengal tiger and a lion," said a well known showman, "we placed Chinese crackers in the respective cages and fired the fuses. As soon as the fuses began to burn they attracted the attention of both animals, but in a widely different manner. The lion drew into a corner and watched the proceedings with a distrustful and uneasy eye. The tiger, on the contrary, advanced to the burning fuse with a firm step and undimmed gaze. On reaching the cracker he began to roll it over the floor with his paw, and when it exploded beneath his nose he did not flinch, but continued his examination until perfectly satisfied. The lion betrayed great fear when he heard the report of the explosion and for quite a time could not be coaxed out of his den."—London Tit-Bits.

Victoria and the Future.
Queen Victoria's childlike faith in the future life is touchingly revealed in her published letters to Dr. Boyd Carpenter. The only fear that troubled her was lest those she loved who had left this world before her might have outgrown her companionship. "I feel only this doubt," she wrote to Carpenter, "on account of my dear husband, whose tastes were of a higher and different order from mine and who had different interests perhaps from mine. I am far more fit now to be his companion than I used to be, but still I know that he must have soared higher than me."

Raiment of the Coster.
The English costermonger must be fearfully and wonderfully clothed, judging from the following coster tailor's advertisement in a London paper:

"A slap-up togs and kickshies builder, with upper Benjamins snipped on a downy plan, with moleskins of hanky-panky design, with a double fakement down the sides and artful buttons at bottom, with kickshies cut petgot, half tight, or to drop loose over the tro-ters, with fancy vests made to flash the dicky, or to fit tight round the scrags."

Domestic Joys.
"Rosa, my mother-in-law is coming for a long visit tomorrow. Here is a list of her favorite dishes."
"Yes, sir."
"Well, the first time you give us one of these you'll get a week's notice."
—Fliegende Blätter.

Not Abel.
In a county court recently an inquiry was made as to why a defendant named Cain was not present. "Because he isn't able," cried a voice from the back of the court.—London Mail.

The Builder's Lament.
His Friend (gazing at new house)—So this is your last house? Builder (sadly)—Yes, last, but not leased.—London Answers.

SPECIAL MEETING OF THE SPRINGFIELD PRESBYTERY

Splendid Addresses Heard at Northminster Church by Well Known Pastors—Sessions Close Today.

A large number of ministers were in attendance Monday on the special meeting of the Presbytery of Springfield, which convenes here for two days. The program yesterday had for a subject, "The Spiritual Life," and the addresses given were of a superior order. The subjects presented follow: "Our Present Condition," Rev. F. H. Given of Springfield; "The Layman's Responsibility," R. E. Bone of the Rook Creek church; "The Minister's Responsibility," Rev. George T. Gutter of Springfield. In the evening Dr. Geo. N. Luccock, pastor of the Oak Street Church of Chicago, preached a very able sermon from the lesson of the vine and the branches.

Services for Today.
The session will convene again today at 10 o'clock when addresses will be heard by Rev. W. H. Bradley of Grand Rev. E. L. Lord of Mason City, and Dr. George N. Luccock. At the noon hour the ministers will be guests of Dr. C. H. Rammelkamp at a dinner, the ladies of the Presbyterian churches of the city assisting. Additional ministers are expected in the city today for the closing exercises. Among those present are Rev. J. F. Rogers, Winchester; Rev. W. H. Penhaligon, Decatur; Dr. G. N. Luccock, Chicago; L. D. Laswell, Mt. Zion; Rev. E. L. Lord, Mason City; Rev. J. N. Norris, Virginia; Rev. W. H. Bradley, Grand Rev. O. H. Deever, Pawnee; Rev. T. M. Dean, Rock Creek; Rev. J. J. Wilson, Virginia; Rev. S. P. Taylor, Greenview; Rev. Robert Carson, Tallula; Rev. A. B. Stafford, Decatur; Rev. J. W. Elder, Argenta; Rev. J. L. Gould, Chatham; Rev. W. J. Rainey, Pisgah; Rev. J. W. McDonald, Decatur; Rev. C. P. Goodson, Rev. D. C. Carson, of Springfield, and Rev. F. H. Given, of Pisgah.

MISS HEMENWAY WILL SPEAK.
Miss Ruth Hemenway, who was heard with so much pleasure as a reader at the chautauqua, held in this city last summer, will appear on a special program which is being prepared for next Sunday night at Northminster church. The services are free and everyone will be welcomed. Miss Hemenway will recite one of her new selections, "The Black Rock."

WATER PROPOSITION BEFORE COUNCIL

Communication From Water Company Will Be Considered at Series of Conferences — Court Street Pavement Petition Referred to Improvement Board.

A regular meeting of the city council was held Monday morning with the mayor and all commissioners present. The minutes of the last meeting were approved and an order was made that the November pay roll should be cared for as soon as funds are available. Commissioner Knollenberg made a report, which will be hailed with joy by city employees, to the effect that there would probably be money enough in the city till in the course of a week or ten days to pay employees two months' wages.

Mayor Davis said that in accordance with the action of the council he had taken up with Mr. Chubbuck the question of meeting him for a conference about a street railway and light matters and read a letter from Mr. Chubbuck in which the latter stated that he could probably come to Jacksonville in a course of ten days and would make it a point of coming sooner if the council so desired. Mr. Chubbuck is still on a tour of inspection with one of the directors of the company from Montreal. A meeting in ten days will be satisfactory to the council.

Mayor Davis and Mr. Newman spoke of a petition that was filed by property owners on East Court street protesting against the acceptance of the East Court street pavement and suggested that as the matter does not come properly before the council but rather before the board of local improvement that the petition should be referred to the board. It was stated that the board after looking up to law in the case decided that the only safe way to protect the city's interest was for the board to approve the report made by the inspector, who was appointed to represent the board. This puts the matter in such shape that the county court will proceed to advertise that a final hearing on the improvement is to be held and property owners will have the opportunity there to appear and make complaints. The board feels that this is the only proper course and is the remedy intended by the local improvement act.

A communication was read from Charles W. Mackey representing the Jacksonville Water Company. This proposition was printed in the Journal Sunday morning. In brief the Water Company proposes to pump water into the city reservoir at the rate of 8 cents per thousand gallons. There are, however, certain provisions with reference to the amount to be pumped, the period of the contract, etc., etc. Mr. Knollenberg, seconded by Mr. Engel, moved that the communication be referred to Commissioner Brennan, who has been compiling figures on the cost of water production and that he make comparisons and refer the matter back to the council. Mr. Newman thought that the council should have Capt. Mackey come before a meeting of the council so that various questions could be asked and answered and certain matters cleared up. There was some discussion along this line, but the commissioners finally agreed that while it would be desirable to have Capt. Mackey present at some later conference that prior to that time it would be wise for the commissioners to discuss things among themselves and to thresh out certain matters among themselves. Mr. Brennan himself was in favor of this method of procedure.

Mayor Davis said that in reading over the contract he could see a number of objections to it without any reference as to the cost, or price, and that it was his disposition and he believed the disposition of every member of the council to give the water company a chance, but that the matter of a proposed contract was a serious business and should be considered with care. The mayor suggested that a meeting be held each morning of this week to talk over the proposed contract in order to have a thorough understanding of its provisions.

Mr. Knollenberg spoke of the fact that under such a proposed contract the city would have to pay for the water it uses in its boilers at the light plant and the water works where it will be necessary to keep firemen just as at present, owing to the fact that it might not be safe to depend upon the water company for a supply of water without having something to fall back on.

Mayor Davis mentioned, too, that under such an arrangement the city would, of course, do all collecting and at the same time would lose whatever shrinkage there was on account of bad debts and also would have to stand for the leakage. These were only a few of the points mentioned, but which seemed to make the commissioners have one opinion, namely, that the proposition should be gone into by thorough discussion.

SUNDAY SCHOOL INSTITUTES.

Friday of this week the Institute is to be held at Franklin in the Christian church, afternoon and evening.

Saturday of this week, evening, at the Y. M. C. A. of this city is to be a conference of adult workers.

The Young American.
Teacher Training.
Why use the Graded Curriculum?
What's the Matter With the Church?
What's the Matter With the Sunday School?

The Characteristics of a Well Equipped Sunday School?
The New Way to Reach the Home — Six Steps on the Journey From Youth to Manhood.

BIG STUBBLE FIRE.

The stubblefield owned by Isaac Bennett, who resides four miles south of Jacksonville, caught fire Sunday morning about 5 o'clock and burned for over an hour. It is thought the field was set afire by a passing train. A fence acted as a barrier in stopping the blaze from entering a corn field.

WORKS ADVOCATES SINGLE TERM IDEA

CALIFORNIA SENATOR BELIEVES PRESIDENTS SHOULD SERVE SIX YEARS ONLY.

Has Strong Criticism for Roosevelt Because of Affiliation With Geo. W. Perkins of the Harvester Trust Says Taft Did Not Deserve Re-Election.

Washington, Dec. 9.—In a speech today in the senate upon his resolution for a constitutional amendment that would provide a single six year presidential term, Senator Works, of California identified since his entry into the senate with the Progressive Republican faction, made a strong criticism of Theodore Roosevelt and the Progressive party for their affiliation with George W. Perkins and other representatives of large corporations.

Senator Works declared that both Roosevelt and Taft deserved defeat. He asserted that Roosevelt, when president, had withheld action against the harvester trust with the natural result that Mr. Perkins had been one of the chief Roosevelt backers in the fight this year for the Progressive nomination; and, with equal emphasis he declared that President Taft had "lost the respect and good will of many good people by going upon the stump against Col. Roosevelt." The attack upon Roosevelt came in connection with Senator Works' assertion that the president's office had been used to prevent adverse action against corporations.

Says Roosevelt Favored Trust. "We are not without evidence of the effect of such action on succeeding elections," said Senator Works. "The great harvester trust, one of the worst and most oppressive of its kind, was signally favored by Mr. Roosevelt when president, in this respect. It was not prosecuted for violations of the Sherman anti-trust law because Roosevelt ordered otherwise. What was the natural result? When Roosevelt again became a candidate George W. Perkins, became his ardent supporter and chief financial backer. Perkins was largely interested in the harvester trust. Perkins knew by actual demonstration that his company would be safe against just prosecution if Roosevelt were elected, unless he could change his mind. And he would much less likely change his views if the harvester trust or its stockholders should lend him their support."

"I am not saying that Mr. Roosevelt acted out of improper motives in dealing with the harvester trust or the steel trust. He may have been perfectly satisfied that the course taken by him was the proper and just course. I call attention to these instances of presidential favor and what followed them, as illustrating the power that exists in the hands of a president in his first term, to secure his election to a second term."

Facts brought out in the senatorial investigation of campaign expenditures were cited by Senator Works to show the extent to which "trusts and their millionaire stockholders" had contributed to campaign contributions. He declared that "privilege seeking corporations support the public official who will grant them privileges."

Campaign Contributions. "The investigation of campaign contributions, lately had, has expressed some of the darkest pages of the political history of the country," he continued. "It has revealed the unpleasant facts that the money used for campaign purposes, both by Republicans and Democrats in past years was supplied almost wholly by men interested in the large corporations that were amenable to punishment under the anti-trust law."

"The new Progressive party was tainted in the very beginning, by putting itself in the hands of the same interests. It was managed and financed by promoters, corruptionists, and trust magnates. In all these cases money was contributed to secure the election of a man who, if elected, would be entrusted with the power of determining conclusively whether or not they should be prosecuted."

"No matter whether it was so understood or not, it was nothing more or less than buying immunity from such prosecution. They very naturally reasoned that the man who accepted their money to secure his election would not use the power their money had given him to punish them for making that money unlawfully."

Senator Works referred to the so-called Harriman contribution in the campaign fund of 1904, a fund which Harriman said Roosevelt had asked him to raise but which Col. Roosevelt had testified was raised on Mr. Harriman's own initiative.

"It is no very material which was right or which was wrong," said Senator Works. "Harriman received his reward whether the money was raised for that purpose or not. Suits by the government were at that very time pending against some of his companies and after his contributions they were dismissed. His roads were otherwise favored by the president that his money helped to elect."

A single presidential term, Senator Works declared, would prevent the use of patronage and the power of office in the way it is now used and would remove the opportunity a president now has to grant favors or inflict punishment upon campaign friends or enemies.

Big Funds a Menace.

He urged that campaign contributions be made only by the state or nation, declaring that "large campaign funds, however raised are a dangerous menace to the free institutions of the country."

The advocacy by the incumbent of his own re-election in the late campaign led to the most shameful campaign of criminalization and re-criminalization between the president and ex-president that this country has ever witnessed," Senator Works continued. "Both of those candidates were overwhelmingly defeated. They both deserved defeat for this reason if for no other. The conduct of Roosevelt was particularly reprehensible. His vicious assaults on the president made it imperative for the latter, in his estimation and that of his friends, to meet on the stump the charges made against him."

"It was a fatal mistake. It lost him the respect and good will of many good people. He put himself on a level with his detractor and thus lowered his dignity and that of his office to no purpose. How much better it would have been for the country if both of them had been ineligible to re-election."

TRIBUTE TO MRS. BRADLEY.

Yesterday morning in chapel at Illinois college, President Hannelkamp paid a fitting tribute to the memory of the late Mrs. J. E. Bradley, wife of the former president of the college and who recently passed away. The speaker told of the many good deeds done by the estimable lady and the splendid reputation she left when she passed away. The gift of $1,000 to the college was a fitting reminder of the esteem in which she was held and her kindly feelings toward the institution with which she and her husband labored for several years.

NEW HAY BARN.

Work Will be Commenced on New Structure at Brook Mills Today.

The contract for the erection of the new hay barn for the Brook Mills has been let to Messrs. Andrew McNamara and Ellsworth Wells, and operations will commence this morning. The building will occupy the same site and will be 100 feet by 40 feet with 12 feet posts. The structure will be modern in every way, each department having side doors with a platform running the entire length of the building. It will also have a metallic roof.

The contractors expect to have the work completed in thirty days and the approximate cost will be $3,000.

J. K. Long and T. M. Tomlinson have returned from a few days visit to Chicago.

Two Generations Are Now Using It

Nation's Most Popular Laxative Keeping Millions of American Families in Good Health.

There must be genuine merit to an article that has stood the test of two generations of users.

In the field of medicine none has had greater success, nor retained that success to a greater degree, than Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which is now being used by two generations of people. Its use in families is constantly becoming more general. The reason, primarily, is that it has merit. It is what it represents itself to be, a laxative- tonic. It does not hide behind the name of a well-known fruit or vegetable; it does not make exaggerated claims nor use coarse language to set forth its virtues.

It is a medicine, but so mild and gentle a medicine that thousands of mothers give it to tiny infants, and yet, in a slightly larger dose, it is equally effective for grown-ups. It is for any disorder of the stomach, liver or bowels, for constipation no matter how chronic, for dyspepsia no matter how severe, for biliousness, sour stomach, gas on the stomach, headaches, drowsiness after eating, and similar complaints arising from a clogged-up condition of the bowels. It is pleasant to the taste and does not gripe. It can be used with safety and good results by anyone at any age or in any condition of health, and that person's health will improve. Every druggist sells it and the price is only fifty cents and one dollar a bottle.

Thousands of families throughout the country are never without it in the house, among them Mrs. Viola Leonard, Bangor, Mich., and Mrs. Lydia Atkins, 11350 Michigan Ave., Chicago, Ill., and these have learned to avoid the use of cathartics, salts, purgatives and physics generally as they are entirely too harsh. Syrup Pepsin cures gradually, but the cure is comfortable, safe and permanent. If no member of your family has ever used Syrup Pepsin and you would like to make a personal trial of it before buying it in the regular way of a druggist, send your address—a postal will do—to W. B. Caldwell, 413 Washington St., Monticello, Ill., and a free sample bottle will be mailed you. Results are always guaranteed or money will be refunded.

Dr. Caldwell.

"A SAILOR WHO DARED TO TAKE RIDICULE."

The above was the subject of the lesson of the Y. M. C. A. Senior Bible class, which meets every Monday evening in the association rooms for Bible study.

About twenty young men assembled at 6:15 to partake of a delicious supper served by the ladies of the Christian church, after which the business of the evening was taken up.

The class is in communication with a similar class of young men of the Alton association, and in all probability will enter into a contest with them during the coming winter months.

The Rev. W. L. Dorgan taught the lesson of the evening, which took up Noah, "A Sailor Who Dared to Take Ridicule." The lesson included his part of the story of Noah's Ark, his age, his righteous life, his communication with God, and the beginning of the building of the ark, and all the details of the flood, and the wiping out of the curse which had been placed on Adam after his sin in the Garden of Eden.

The lesson was exceedingly interesting, and especially the general discussion of questions which arose in connection with the scripture on the topic. Under the leadership of Rev. Mr. Dorgan and Rev. Mr. Miller the class was undoubtedly going to prosper and grow, both in size and zeal as the time passes by.

The class is just opening, and it is an exceptional opportunity for any young man to obtain a good knowledge of the principal old testament characters by giving only a few minutes each Monday evening to this study. Every young man 18 years of age or over is welcome.

TO ALL PERSONS INTERESTED.

State of Illinois, ss.

Morgan County, ss.

In the County Court thereof, to the November Term, A. D. 1912. On the Probate Side thereof.

Notice is hereby given to all persons interested, that on the 30th day of November, A. D. 1912, a petition was filed in said court and still remains on file therein, on the probate side thereof, purporting to be signed by a majority of all of the owners of land situated within the boundaries hereinafter given, for the appointment of commissioners and the establishment of a drainage and levee district to be known as The Mauvalsterre Drainage and Levee District. The starting point of the work proposed is a point on the west line of the right of way of the railroad commonly known as the C. P. & St. L., where said right of way crosses Mauvalsterre creek in Morgan county, Illinois, the said point being eighty rods more or less north of the center of Section sixteen (16), Township fifteen, north range ten west of the third P. M. in said county. The route proposed for the work proposed is as follows: Beginning at said starting point, thence in a westerly direction following the meanderings of said Mauvalsterre Creek so far as consistent with as straight a line as shall be found practical through Sections sixteen, nine, eight and seven, said sections being in Township fifteen north range ten as aforesaid; thence through Sections twelve, eleven, ten, three, four, nine, eight, seven and eighteen, said last named sections from twelve on in Township fifteen north range eleven west in said county, to the terminus hereinafter mentioned. The said terminus proposed is a point at the north or east line of the right of way of what is commonly called the Wabash railroad, where said right of way crosses said Mauvalsterre Creek, said point being near the northwest corner of the southwest quarter of Section eighteen aforesaid. A general description of the work proposed is as follows: To construct a ditch from said proposed starting to said terminus, in as straight a line as practical, through and across the lands bordering Mauvalsterre Creek aforesaid, by dredge boat or otherwise, said ditch to be of sufficient size to carry the water which now runs in said creek, and to take the place of said creek, to eliminate so far as possible the crooks and bends in said creek, straightening and shortening the same, in order to prevent the overflow of the lands bordering said creek by the water thereof. A hearing of said petition will be asked at the January term, A. D. 1913, of said Court, on the Probate side thereof, said term beginning on January 1, 1913, said hearing to be asked on Monday, January 6th, A. D. 1913, at the Court House in Jacksonville, county and state aforesaid.

C. A. Boruff, County Clerk.

L. O. Vaught, Attorney for Petitioners.

Raleigh's Pipe.

A pipe with a history is in the possession of a collector in London. It was once the property of Sir Walter Raleigh and is not unlike the letter "Y" in shape. For centuries it has been kept in an inlaid box dated "Anno 1527." It is constructed in four pieces of wood, rudely carved with dogs' heads and with the faces of Indians. On the bowl there is a cap about as large as the bowl itself, and attached to the stem is a string of beads made of the same wood as the pipe. In this stem a powerful whistle has been cut, and the suggestion is that Sir Walter used it to summon his servants. The Archaeological society exhibited this pipe at Guildhall in the middle of the last century, the inscription accompanying it bearing these words: "The original pipe of the above celebrated Historian of the World and who first introduced tobacco and potatoes into England." Tradition, corroborated by a parchment in the possession of the owner, states that this pipe was smoked by Sir Walter Raleigh on the scaffold just before his execution and handed to one of his relatives as a memento of him.

Franklin the Citizen.

Franklin was particularly about the way of doing business. He was particularly about the way in which he made his money. When he first started his newspaper in Philadelphia his rival was Bradford, who, in addition to publishing a paper, was postmaster general of the colonies. Bradford used his authority as postmaster general to practically exclude Franklin's papers from the mail by forbidding the post-riders to carry them. Franklin shortly after succeeded Bradford as postmaster general. Here was the opportunity to build a monopoly and crush his old rival, but the thought never seems to have entered his head that the newspaper business of the colonies belonged to him. He says of Bradford in his attempt to crush Franklin's newspaper, "I thought so meanly of him for it that when I afterward came into his situation I took care never to imitate him."

A War Bismarck Forgot.

The smallest of Europe's sovereign states, Liechtenstein, has a monarch and a parliament, but no taxes and no army. Its finances are provided by its Prince John II, who in return nominates three of its fifteen members of parliament. At the time of the Austro-Prussian war the principality sided with Austria and mobilized an army of 100 of all ranks to share in the fighting. But Liechtenstein's army never smelled fire, and Liechtenstein itself was quite overlooked in the peace negotiations at the end of the war. Fifteen years later Bismarck discovered that his country was still technically at war with this miniature state, and in strict accordance with the etiquette of such things pourparlers took place, and a formal treaty of peace was signed between the two countries.—Westminster Gazette.

A Stone Eater.

The oddest diet in the world is stones. In an old volume of the Gentleman's Magazine is described the discovery of a stone eater "in a northern inhabited island" by the crew of a Dutch ship. They brought him to France in May, 1760, where he was submitted to all kinds of scientific tests. It was proved that he thrived better on stones than on any other food, and his dinner usually consisted of large sized flints, with powdered marbles for dessert. He became a great attraction at fashionable gatherings, where he amused the guests by swallowing stones and afterward convincing them that there was no deception by making them rattle in his stomach.—London Chronicle.

Mental Suggestion.

The elder Rothschild once proved the value of mental-suggestion as regards money matters. Receiving by special courier the news of the result of a Napoleonic battle he went to a prominent corner in the financial district and stood against a post, the figure of abject despair and discouragement.

"We are beaten and lost!" declared the people. And they dumped their stocks in the market, and the elder Rothschild, through his agents, bought their stocks up in a hurry before the news was received by the people that the battle had been a victory and not a disaster.

As Good as Married.

First Sailor—No, Bill, yer don't really know what life is till yer get spliced. Second Sailor—Wye, shiver me timbers, messmate! I've never been married, true, but I've had yeller fever and cholera, I've been frostbit, drown'd, burned alive, eat by a shark, blow'd up at sea and operated on for cancer. Wot more does a reasonable chap want?—London Globe.

Different Medicine.

Mr. Courtney (flatteringly)—I had the blues when I came here tonight, Miss Fisher, but they are all gone now. You are as good as medicine, Miss Fisher's Little Brother—Yes, father himself says she'll be a drug in the market if she doesn't catch on to some fellow soon.

Precisely Located.

"Where were the kings of England crowned?" was the question on an examination paper.

"On their heads," wrote a boy in the space left for the answer.

Paradoxical.

Mother—My son, haven't I told you it is poor form to dip your bread in your coffee? Harry (aged five)—Yes, mother; but it's good taste.—Judge's Library.

A QUEEN'S GIFT.

Ristori's Request When Told "Anything You Ask Me Is Granted."

Mme. Ristori, the celebrated Italian actress of her day, was born of a noble family, but her illustrious career added to the glory of her ancestors.

I frequently went to her receptions, and many were the pleasant chats we had over a cup of tea.

It was on one of these occasions that she told me the interesting story of how when she was once acting in Madrid her success was so colossal that Queen Isabella, who was then on the Spanish throne, sent for her, desiring to speak to her in the royal box. The queen expressed her pleasure in the enthusiasm and then said to Mme. Ristori:

"Anything you ask me is granted."

Without an instant's hesitation Mme. Ristori replied to the queen:

"Madame, if you really wish to give me whatever I ask I will beg you to relieve the poor man who, as I read this morning, has been sentenced to death and is to be garroted tomorrow."

The queen hesitated a few seconds before she granted this wish. But the reprieve was signed, and the condemned man was, to his great astonishment, released on the eve of his execution, little dreaming that he owed his life to the talented actress. It was typical of Mme. Ristori's noble, generous nature to ask the queen to grant her this request rather than to ask for some jewel or other tangible souvenir to hand down to her descendants.—Frederick Townsend Martin in Ainslee's Magazine.

PUBLIC SPEAKING.

And the Necessity For Cultivating the Art of Enunciation.

Speaking is one of those arts which people seem to think are unnecessary to study and learn, and the probability is that most speakers of the kind mentioned are blissfully unaware of their inaudibility. Doubtless their voice resounds comfortably in the empty spaces of their own chest and head, and this prevents them from knowing that it does not penetrate to the auditory apparatus of other people.

To be a lecturer it is not only necessary to know your subject, but the art of enunciation and audible delivery needs to be learned also. And the sound of one's voice in one's own ears is a most misleading guide. Such people ought to be trained by being made to read or speak from one end of a large room to somebody teaching them at the other end, when they would soon find out that tones which will pass muster in a conversation are useless in a public speech.

In conversation we carelessly slur half our syllables, leaving our interlocutor to guess them from the context, but this will not do in a public speech, where people are too far off to catch the signs. Again, a word pronounced in the ordinary English way—of throwing a strong accent on a single syllable and slurring the other syllables—becomes reduced to a mere monosyllable when said in that manner in a large room.—Theosophical Path.

The People of Great Britain.

Ethnologically Great Britain is a mixture of many races, resulting from a succession of invasions. When the Romans invaded Britain the inhabitants were Celtic, mixed with an earlier Euskarian non-Aryan element. They continued to be mainly so until the fifth and sixth centuries, when the level parts of the country were overrun by German tribes. Then followed invasions by the Danes and other Scandinavian tribes and lastly the Norman conquest. The inhabitants of England and the lowlands of Scotland, therefore, sprang from an amalgamation of the original Celtic with German and Scandinavian blood. Wales and the highlands of Scotland are still inhabited by descendants of the ancient Celtic tribes. The people of Ireland also are of Celtic origin, although there is an admixture of many other races.

Rudimentary Hind Limbs.

Snakes are not the only animals which exhibit the possession of rudimentary hind limbs. In the whale tribe there is no evidence externally of hind limbs. The fore limbs in them are converted into the "flippers," or swimming paddles. Yet when the skeleton is examined traces of a haunch and attached rudimentary thigh bone are found. There is developed in certain kinds of whales a bony piece representing the haunch. The thigh bone is distinct, but there is a mere rudiment attached to it, representing the shin bone or tibia of other animals.

Part of the Show.

"Ow's yore little boy gettin' on, Mrs. Slack?"

"Very well indeed. 'E's entered the theatrical profession now."

"Oh! Wot part's 'e takin'?"

"Well, 'e ain't exactly takin' a part, but 'e fetches the scene shifters beer."

—London Answers.

A "Defuncter."

Customer (missing his favorite waiter)—Where's Charles today? Waiter—I'm sorry, sir, but 'e's gone. Customer—Gone! Do you mean he's defunct? Waiter—Yes, sir, an' with everything 'e could lay 'is 'ands on.—London Sketch.

Woman's Power Over Man

Woman's most glorious endowment is the power to awaken and hold the pure and honest love of a worthy man. When she loses it and still loves on, no one in the wide world can know the heart agony she endures. The woman who suffers from weakness and derangement of her special womanly organism soon loses the power to sway the heart of a man. Her general health suffers and she loses her good looks, her attractiveness, her amiability and her power and prestige as a woman. Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., with the assistance of his staff of able physicians, has prescribed for and cured many thousands of women. He has devised a successful remedy for woman's ailments. It is known as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It is a positive specific for the weaknesses and disorders peculiar to women. It purifies, regulates, strengthens and heals. Medicine dealers sell it. No honest dealer will advise you to accept a substitute in order to make a little larger profit.

NOTES OF THE POULTRY AND CORN SHOW.

The show has come and gone. There was a nice exhibit of poultry—not as large as last year—but still a fine bunch.

A fine set of officers has been elected for the coming year and a great effort will be made to have 500 chickens in the room next year.

The holding of a corn exhibit in connection with the poultry show is to be commended. There was $20.00 cash offered on corn, but the entries were few in number, and the quality, with the exception of two entries, was no as high as it could be. The next year bigger premiums will be offered and more entries are expected.

The first premium yellow corn, shown by P. L. Sheehan, won the silver cup offered by Strawn & Spink. This corn was of good quality and was only slightly better than the white corn shown by W. J. Moore, which won Decker & Salby's box of Nichols Park cigars.

The first premium yellow corn was sold to P. L. Sheehan for ten cents per ear. The third premium white corn was sold to him at five cents per ear. Mr. Sheehan raises fine corn and believes in getting the best even if he has to pay at the rate of $7.00 per bushel for it.

G. E. Hall purchased the yellow corn shown by him, while the other corn was sold at fair prices.

The egg exhibit this year was quite an improvement over that of last year, and the eggs that won the ribbons and the cash premiums were well worthy of prizes. The Ancon eggs shown by Mrs. F. C. Taylor, the Black Minorca eggs shown by J. F. Kellogg and the Rhode Island Red eggs shown by Mrs. John W. Clary, would all weigh at the rate of thirty two ounces per dozen. Weigh the next dozen eggs you purchase and consider yourself extremely lucky if they weigh twenty-four ounces. W. F. Thompson showed a dozen eggs laid by his Barred Rock pullets, which were considered large for pullet eggs.

Why didn't you show? "I have better than that at home" was the remark made by a number of visitors. Have you? If you think so, prepare to bring them next year. All poultry fanciers have to "be shown," and none of them will believe it unless you show them by exhibiting next year.

Arthur Smith of R. R. No. 8, a Barred Rock breeder, showed a cock and a hen that were each five years old. They still show up fine. W. E. Thomson showed a hen that won in 1910 as a pullet, tied for third place in 1911 as a hen, winning fourth, and again won fourth place this year.

The show just held was one of the cleanest ever held in this country. Jack DeCastro, the accommodator and hard-working superintendent, had secured a supply of shavings and used these in the coops instead of straw. And then the coops were cleaned out every day early in the morning. The consequence was that the air was not filled with dust, and it was as sweet and pure as our doors.

Judge D. T. Heimlich, an old experienced poultry judge, is a busy man during the show season which lasts from the middle of November to the middle of February. "Dave" as he is generally known, is not only popular away from home, but is equally as popular as a judge here where he has lived for forty years or more. This week he is judging at Newton and at Wichita, Kansas.

The awards placed by Judge Heimlich met with the approval of the losers as well as the winners, and of course visitors were satisfied as the ribbons were hung up early.

E. G. Tearney, a former Jacksonville resident, assisted Judge Heimlich, and his judging met with great satisfaction. He is one of the young judges that is really making good on his merit. The officers of the association hope to be able to get him again next year.

There was practically no competition on pigeons this year. Frank Cannon having the only exhibit entered. In quality it was fine, consisting of a pair of each of eight different varieties. It was well worthy of first premium and of the three dollars cash paid by the association.

The show just closed was a free show. How many of the merchants of Jacksonville realize what that one word means? "Free" to anyone that wished to go in and see. And hundreds took advantage of this feature and visited the show time and time again.

Christmas shopping commenced last week. Sure, the week of the poultry show. Farmers came in from the small towns and villages. Relatives came from a distance. And exhibitors and fanciers came from Springfield, Peoria, Girard, White Hall, Carrollton, Bluffs, Manchester and a score of other towns. The merchants of Jacksonville derive benefit from the holding of a poultry show in this city.

Several birds of the chicken variety changed hands at the show at from good to fancy prices. The highest price heard of this year is $25.00, but quite a number were disposed of at prices around $10.00. Every little bit helps, and especially when people learn that Morgan county fanciers raise as fine chickens as does any section in the United States.

FIREPROOF BUILDINGS.

They Must Be Analyzed as Such Apart From Their Contents.

Many people think that the term "fireproof" is a misnomer, that there is no such thing as a fireproof building and that the use of the term gives one too great a sense of security. This attitude has been brought about largely by the destruction or serious damages of certain buildings that were supposed to have been fireproof and by the fact that many persons think because a building is fireproof it should in some occult fashion prevent the contents from burning.

It is a matter of record that where buildings called fireproof have been destroyed they have been found to have violated some fundamental principle of the really fireproof building.

A fireproof building must be considered apart from its contents, for the structure itself can in no way prevent the burning of combustible material within it except the spread of fire. It is true that as yet we have not attained the absolutely fireproof building, since even the best fireproofing material we have today is somewhat damageable by fire, but we can and do erect structures that are practically fireproof.

The term "fireproof" in building construction means a capability of withstanding fire without being materially damaged. A fireproof building, therefore, may be defined as one that is capable of having its contents cremated without material impairment structurally. That is, all burnable material may be destroyed, but the structure itself will remain intact, requiring only the replacement of some of the fireproofing and the interior finish to make it again ready for occupancy.—F. P. Walther in Engineering Magazine.

THE CRAVING FOR FOOD.

Man Eats Because He's Hungry, Not For Scientific Reasons.

In an article in the Popular Science Monthly Professor W. B. Cannon of the Harvard Medical school writes: "Why do we eat?" This question, presented to a group of educated people, is likely to bring forth the answer, "We eat to compensate for body waste or to supply the body with fuel for its labors." Although the body is in fact losing weight continuously and drawing continuously on its store of energy and although the body must periodically be supplied with fresh material and energy in order to keep a more or less even balance between the income and the outgo, this maintenance of weight and strength is not the motive for taking food.

"Primitive man and the lower animals may be regarded as quite unacquainted with notions of the equilibrium of matter and energy in the body, and yet they take food and have an efficient existence in spite of this ignorance. In nature generally important processes, such as the preservation of the individual and the continuance of the race, are not left to be determined by intellectual considerations, but are provided for in automatic devices. Natural desires and impulses arise in consciousness, driving us to action, and only by analysis do we learn their origin or divine their significance. Thus our primary reasons for eating are to be found not in convictions about metabolism, but in the experiences of appetite and hunger."

Order of the Dragon.

There is at least one order of American officers that congress has recognized to the extent of permitting the members to wear the badge with their uniform on proper occasions. This is the Order of the Dragon, established by commissioned officers of the army at Peking in 1900. The members are commissioned officers of the American army and navy who served in China during the Boxer troubles, and there are honorary members from other armies and navies which took part in the campaign of the allies. The society is similar in some ways to the Order of the Cincinnati, founded by French and American officers at the close of the American Revolution, the object of the society being to perpetuate friendships formed during the war.—New York Sun

Stone Microbes.

The decay of building stones, according to more than one authority, is not due to wind action or other surface influence, but to internal disintegration resembling wood rot, and this is ascribed by some to a low organism like the fungi and the molds that cause the decay of vegetable substances.

A cure has been found for the stone disease, or at least a form of treatment that diminishes its ravages. The stones are treated with germicides, the best of which appears to be a mixture of sulphate of copper solution with bichloride of mercury and creosote.

A REAL FUR OPPORTUNITY

Through my wide and favorable acquaintance with many of the leading manufacturers of ladies' high grade Furs, I am enabled several times each season to present for a day a greater assortment than any retailer can afford to carry, even in the larger cities:

Tomorrow Wednesday,

(and don't forget the day) Dec. 11th, MR. EDWARD J. RYAN, representing one of America's greatest makers of ladies' Fur Coats, Muffs and Scarfs, will be

At FRANK BYRNS' HAT STORE

He will have on sale at most attractive prices Furs of the extreme novelties, as well as the regular staple styles and qualities.

This is the last chance this season to see this line and those interested should avail themselves of the opportunity. I shall be content to handle any orders placed at this time on a very close margin.

Assuring that you will continue to receive the same fair treatment as in the past and hoping to see you often, I am most truly yours.

"MONEY TRUST" INVESTIGATION IS RESUMED IN WASHINGTON

Eleven Bankers of Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, Baltimore and New York Testify.

Washington, Dec. 9.—Clearing house domination of banking institutions formed the basis of the first day's examination of witnesses in the house banking and currency committee's investigation of the so-called money trust which was resumed today. Eleven bankers, representing institutions in Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, Baltimore and New York testified.

Samuel Untermyer, counsel for the committee in conducting the examination endeavored to show that there was a general movement among clearing houses throughout the country to impose on banks a rule enforcing the collection of commissions on out of town checks collected by banks. In this connection he ascertained that the Baltimore clearing house declined to admit the state bank of Maryland to a clearing membership because as a clearing member it would not be forced to abide by the clearing house rule enforcing such collections. From the Pittsburgh bankers Mr. Untermyer elicited that a suit was pending in the courts to prevent the enforcement of a rule for collecting commission on out of town checks, which was adopted in conjunction with clearing houses in Cincinnati, Cleveland and Columbus. The Mellon National Bank of Pittsburgh declined to accept a rule and are now seeking an injunction to prevent its operation.

BIG SUM RAISED FOR WOMAN'S COLLEGE

TOTAL PLEDGED TO MIDNIGHT MONDAY WAS $43,774.

Result Gratifying to Campaign Management—Other Gifts Will Come and Remainder Will Be Raised When County Canvass Is Made—Dr. Hancher Says Farewell—Pres. Hancher Gratified By Liberality, Enthusiasm and Interest Shown—Will Work for Greater College.

Monday evening at the campaign headquarters of the Woman's College the board of canvassers met to hear the report for the day. During the afternoon and evening $2,788 was raised, making a grand total of $43,774 from 418 contributors.

Dr. J. R. Hancher presided at the close of the supper and called on Dr. Hancher, the representative of the board of education, for a final statement. In explaining the connection of Dr. Hancher with the local movement Dr. Hancher stated that Dr. Hancher is an official representative of the board of education of the Methodist Episcopal church and receives no bonus or share of the amount which has been raised. The services of Dr. Hancher cost no more than the salary paid him by the board of education for the actual time spent in Jacksonville.

A motion was made expressing the appreciation of all present of the services of Dr. Hancher and of the invaluable assistance he has rendered in organizing and directing the campaign. The motion was adopted by a rising vote and there was continued cheering as the doctor rose to speak. Dr. Hancher complimented the college and workers upon the good will and optimism that have characterized the work from the beginning. He stated that never before in his experience had there prevailed a more encouraging spirit.

Dr. Hancher then called on C. R. Knollenberg, W. J. Brady, Dr. G. H. Kopperl, Dr. T. J. Pitner and T. H. Buckthorpe, who responded with short speeches full of encouragement for the success of the movement. By unanimous vote it was decided that the present organization be merged with the county organization and continue until the full $50,000 is raised. W. J. Brady was elected chairman of the committee.

By 6:30 o'clock Monday evening the Woman's Guild of the College had raised $8,578 of their pledge of $10,000 for the campaign and they unanimously agreed to continue the canvass actively until the entire amount is subscribed. Every indication points to an early completion of the entire amount desired in Jacksonville and Morgan county.

Left for the East. Dr. Hancher and Dr. Hancher left this morning at 1:48 o'clock over the Wabash. The former will go to Washington to attend a meeting of the board of the American university of which he is the counselor. Dr. Hancher will attend a meeting of the board of education of the Methodist church which convenes in New York Thursday.

Dr. Hancher Appreciative. Dr. Hancher before he left for the east this morning expressed his deep appreciation of the spirit shown by Jacksonville business men and citizens generally during the past few days' campaign. The money pledged has been gratifying and a contribution of almost equal value has been made through the interest in the college aroused by the workers. It has meant much to the college to have men and women willing to set aside their private duties and devote hours and days to the college. Dr. Hancher has realized that it would be a hard task to make the general public understand that the college has passed from an academy into a college and that the change has brought on many important problems and he has found that this campaign has done wonders in bringing about this understanding of the situation so much desired. Dr. Hancher now looks forward to the future with hopefulness kindled anew as he has the knowledge that in his efforts to build up here a great college with a constantly increasing attendance that Jacksonville is behind him with interest and enthusiasm.

Aside from a number of pieces of personal property, the greater part of the holdings, including the ball club, is made a trust estate and given into the care of Harry N. Hempstead, of Indianapolis. The will provides that Hempstead, and Ashley Lloyd, of Cincinnati, as trustees of the estate, may retain their holdings as long as profitable or may dispose of them at any time.

The proceeds are to be divided equally among all members of the family.

BASKETBALL PRACTICE WILL START TODAY

Coach Buland Expects to Have a Squad on Floor of Strawn's Hall This Afternoon—Other Sport Notes.

The first practice for basketball at the high school is expected to commence this afternoon in Strawn's hall. Arrangements have been made for using the hall during the coming season. It is the most commodious, best equipped and handiest for the students and from now on will be a very busy place.

The J. H. S. basketball team is almost an X quantity thus far as Coach Buland has not had a chance to get a line on his men. As has been previously mentioned Thomas Hale is captain of the team and among the candidates are Reeve, Walton and Dale Boxell, Richard Reynolds and Cannon. The schedule which Manager Allcott is preparing will include games from the fastest teams in central Illinois and the local players will have ample opportunity to go up against the best there is in the country.

Normal University Schedule. Normal university has announced their basketball schedule for the coming year, including ten games, two of which will be played against Illinois college. Several of the men who were seen here in the Normal football squad will try for the basketball team. Coach Russell has announced the following schedule:

Jan. 16—Lincoln college at Normal.
Jan. 17—Hedding college at Normal.
Jan. 16—Lincoln college at Normal.
Jan. 23—Bradley Polytechnic at Normal.
Jan. 25—E. I. S. N. at Charleston.
Feb. 1—Illinois college at Jacksonville.
Feb. 7—Illinois college at Normal.
Feb. 14—Lincoln college at Lincoln.
February 15—Bradley Polytechnic at Peoria.
Feb. 25—Wesleyan at Normal.
March 1—E. I. S. N. at normal.

Wesleyan Schedule. Manager A. H. Rust of Wesleyan basketball team has announced the following schedule for the season. It also includes a game with Illinois college. The schedule follows:

Dec. 20—University of Illinois at Urbana.
Jan. 10—Knox college at Bloomington.
Jan. 18—Bradley Polytechnic institute at Bloomington.
January 24—Illinois college at Jacksonville.
Jan. 25—Christian Brothers college at St. Louis, Mo.
Jan. 31—Millikin university at Decatur.
Feb. 1—Eastern Illinois Normal at Charleston.
Feb. 5—DePauw university at Bloomington.
Feb. 14—Millikin university at Bloomington.
Feb. 20—Knox college at Galesburg.
Feb. 21—Bradley Polytechnic Institute at Peoria.
Feb. 25—Illinois State Normal at Normal.
Feb. 28—Lake Forest college at Bloomington.
March 6, 7 and 8—Annual college tournament.

Lincoln Elects Captain. At a recent meeting of the student body of Lincoln college, Clark Bunn was elected captain of the basketball team and Ralph Taylor, captain of the football team. Local fans are acquainted with the two men. It will be remembered that Bunn was picked as the best all round player on the Lincoln team when they were here Thanksgiving day. Taylor's work was also splendid. He went to Lincoln university from Baker university, Kansas, and was picked up this year by Coach Lynch of William & Vashti as right tackle on the all-star state team.

Bloomington High. Although Manager Allcott has received no definite word from the manager of the Bloomington basketball team, it is not at all unlikely that Jacksonville will meet that team before the season is over. Bloomington's schedule is as follows:

Dec. 20—Peoria Manual Training H. S. at Bloomington.
Jan. 11—Peoria Central H. S. at Peoria.
Jan. 17—Peoria Manual Training H. S. at Peoria.
Jan. 24—Decatur at Bloomington.
Jan. 31—Peoria Central H. S. at Bloomington.
Feb. 14—Springfield at Bloomington.
Feb. 21—Decatur at Decatur.
March 14—Springfield at Springfield.

SOCIAL EVENTS.

Mrs. P. G. Stein entertained a limited company of friends at a miscellaneous shower at her home, 715 Jordan street, Monday evening in honor of Miss Winnie Herring of St. Louis, who is soon to be married to Francis Harrison Elberts of Rockford, formerly a resident of this city. Miss Herring is a daughter of Willis Herring who formerly resided on Pine street in this city, and she has a large circle of friends here. The wedding is to take place at her home in St. Louis the latter part of the month.

The social list of the evening was composed of only a few of Miss Herring's intimate friends and she was the recipient of quite a number of presents. The evening was very pleasantly spent with various games and music and during the hours delicious refreshments were served.

THIEF ROBS FIREMAN'S WIDOW OF HER PENSION FUND

Wife of One of the Victims of the Stock Yards Fire in Chicago Is Robbed of $67.

Chicago, Dec. 9.—A fireman's widow, wife of one of the score of victims of the stock yards disaster two years ago, was robbed of her pension of $67 here today in an elevator in the city hall within a few feet of police and detective headquarters. Today was pension day for firemen's families. It is thought that the thief was aware of the fact and boldly awaited his opportunity under the noses of a hundred policemen and plainclothes detectives.

The victim is the widow of Captain Alexander D. Lannon, who died the day after Chief Horan with more than 20 of his men were caught under a falling roof in the stock yards fire. She broke out of a crowd that was leaving a city hall elevator crying that she had been robbed. The handle of her purse clutched in her hand was evidence of her loss the rest of the pocketbook was found in a corridor a few minutes later emptied of its contents.

MR. HAIRGROVE A CANDIDATE.

City Attorney William N. Hairgrove is an applicant for a position on the state board of pardons and his name will no doubt receive serious consideration from Governor-elect Dunne. Members of the Morgan county bar have joined in an endorsement of Mr. Hairgrove and a number of men, in various parts of the state, influential in Democratic politics are also interested in his candidacy. The indications are that few candidates can come before the governor with so strong a following. Mr. Hairgrove certainly deserves consideration from his party. He has been a faithful party worker in times of political prosperity and political adversity alike, his Democracy being of the unswerving type. Mr. Hairgrove is an able lawyer. He is an honest man, one who is open and convictions and to follow in the frank, ready to state his opinions plainly, which he believes lead to duty well performed. Mr. Hairgrove's friends in Morgan county without regard to party lines would be very glad to see him appointed to a place on the pardon board, a post he could fill acceptably.

DAMAGE WAS SLIGHT.

The damage to A. P. Vasconcellos' barn, which caught fire early Sunday morning was about $30 and Mr. Vasconcellos feels very grateful to George Murphy, who turned in the alarm, and to the fire department for their good work, for had the discovery or work been delayed for only a few minutes the damages would probably have amounted to $300. A horse, wagon, harness and quite a quantity of feed were removed from the barn and the damage to the building itself was comparatively slight.

WILL AWARD NO PEACE PRIZE.

Christiania, Dec. 9.—The noble peace prize will not be awarded this year. This is the first time since the establishment of the Nobel foundation, the first award of which was made in 1901, that the committee of the Norwegian parliament has found no person worthy of the award. The committee in explanation of its action merely states that it has decided that there has been "no work deserving of the prize."

It has been recommended that the prize, approximating $40,000, shall be retained for the benefit of the foundation fund.

CAR REPAIRERS MAY STRIKE.

Springfield, Ill., Dec. 9.—A strike of all the car repairers on the Chicago & Alton system is threatened as the result of the discharge of two men employed in the car department here because they were members of International Association of Car Workers union.

DR. HANCHER'S FAREWELL

The days in the Jacksonville forward movement campaign on behalf of Illinois Woman's college have been big with wholesome associations, delightful fellowships, long hours, hard work and unflinching confidence in the successful issue of the task Jacksonville and Morgan county had set for themselves; a task at once worthy, noble, dignified and possible. $60,000 looked like an impossible thing to many folks when it was announced that Jacksonville and Morgan county would undertake to raise it for Illinois Woman's college. There are two essential features of an undertaking like this. The first is publicity. The second is intelligent canvassing until the last man is reached. These two things are comprehended in intelligent organization.

The publicity, through the peerless letters of President Harker sent to a chosen list of people over the county, and the untiring and able newspaper service of Jacksonville's press could not have been surpassed. So superior was this work that none of it has given me any concern at any point of the campaign. The organization was strong, well balanced, aggressive and determined. The result of the two things is roundly $44,000, at this midnight hour of December 9th, 1912. Roundly $16,000 yet to get and the county outside of Jacksonville who have the matter under consideration and who will yet subscribe. These have no part or share in the $14,000, nor responsibility for its payment. My own concern now is that you shall not become over confident and fail at that point.

People of Jacksonville, citizens of Morgan county, do you realize what you have in the Illinois Woman's college? Your city is beautiful, it is well provided with public institutions of the state, it has good business houses, splendid homes, loyal men and enthusiastic women. How splendid your women are! They are your noblest assets, your children are next. Your noblest public assets are the institutions that act as mediators between your children and the great, broad, far-reaching life-activities that are to be theirs in the years afar. Your magnificent public schools, your worthy co-educational colleges, your splendid woman's college—these are your first public assets. There are nearly two hundred so-called woman's colleges in the nation. Of these not 25 are standard. Only about one in eight of our woman's colleges is standard.

Illinois Woman's college is standard. The splendid work you have done in the last eleven days guarantees that it will continue standard because it guarantees the completion of the fund of $60,000 by the time the county is fully covered. I congratulate you. I rejoice at having been connected with your program and a part of your working force. May I take this opportunity to thank you one and all, you subscribers, you workers, you folks that have shown courtesies. I thank you one and all on behalf of the Woman's college, on behalf of the far-reaching educational interests of the country and on my own behalf, for all that you have done. May I likewise thank you on behalf of these for the completed work which you are sure to achieve within a reasonably short time in the sum total of $60,000 pledged in Jacksonville and Morgan county. All hail and good cheer to you and yours. The gladdest and best of holiday seasons this year of Our Lord 1912.

Very Sincerely,

John W. Hancher,

HAS DONE GREAT SERVICE.

During the campaign for the Woman's College which has been in progress for the past ten days, Dr. J. W. Hancher has been the special counselor and has proven a wonderful influence in the work of organization and accomplishment. Dr. Hancher is a man of broad education and sympathy. He has a deeply spiritual nature and along with his devotion to the cause he represents he has a grasp of men and conditions which are given to few. He is tactful, forceful, eloquent, devout, a great leader and the college was fortunate in having his aid.

MISS BEEBE IS HEARD IN PLEASING PROGRAM

Initial Concert by Instructor of Voice at the Woman's College Delights Music Lovers.

Miss Anna Lavina Beebe, soprano, an instructor of voice in the College of Music, was heard in her initial recital Monday evening in Music hall. Miss Beebe formerly attended the musical department of Northwestern university, her home being at Evanston. After studying with Chicago musicians she went to London and was a pupil of the celebrated Gracia.

Miss Beebe's voice shows careful training and is of unusual range and quality. She possesses wonderful breath control and her tone is pure and of exceptional beauty. She has interpreting ability and in her pianissimo passages were found a splendid opportunity to reveal her artistic temperament and this together with her commendable enunciation made a program of rare merit and strength.

Miss Louise Miller acted as the accompanist of the evening. There was a bond of sympathy between the singer and the pianist, which revealed the natural musical gifts of each. The audience was liberal with applause and appreciative to a marked degree.

The following was the program: My Heart Ever Faithful, (Pflings Cantata)—J. S. Bach. Pace, Pace, Mio, Dio, (La Forza del Destino)—Verdi. Cavatine, (Queen of Sheba)—Gounod.

Dichterliebe—Schumann. Im Wunderschoenen Monat Mai. Aus Meinen Thraenen. Die Rose, Die Lilie, Die Taub. Die Sonne.

Wenn ich in deine Augen seh'. Die Soldatenbraut—Schumann. Vergeßliches Statendchen—Brahms.
